ARTIST WILLIAM KEITH DIES AT HIS BERKELEY HOME AFTER LONG ILLNESS

DEATH STILL PAINTER'S HAND

Famous Creator of Landscapes Passes Away at the Age of 72.

Shock Occasioned by Loss of Paintings Hastens the End.

BERKELEY, April 13.—William Keith, the noted landscape painter, who died today at his home in Berkeley, aged 72 years.

WILLIAM KEITH, the noted landscape painter, who died today at his home in Berkeley, aged 72 years.

HAND IS STILLED.

Keith had not been able to visit his studio or do any work for several months.

Besides his wife, who is a leader in the suffrage movement on this side of the bay, Keith leaves two children by a former marriage, Mrs. E. N. Harmon of San Francisco and Charles Keith of Alameda.

Keith was 72 years of age, having been born in Aberdeenshire in 1839. He was educated in Scotland and studied portrait painting in Munich. In 1861 he came to New York and worked as an engraver until 1869, when he came to San Francisco and engaged in the same occupation, later taking up landscape painting.

WEDS AGAIN.

Keith was married in June, 1859, to his second wife, who was Miss Mary McHenry of Berkeley. She was the first woman graduate of the Hastings College of Law. Following the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Keith spent two years in Europe, returning to reside in Berkeley.

Following the fire of 1906 Keith produced approximately five hundred paintings in the effort to replace his losses sustained by the burning of his studio. For one year after the fire he painted industriously at his Berkeley home, afterward re-establishing his studio in San Francisco.

Keith was a member of the Swedenborgian church of San Francisco. In a quiet way he was given to charitable deeds, his beneficiaries being members of the church and other persons.

Charles Keeler, the Berkeley poet, was a warm friend of Keith and greatly deplores his death.

Keith had also as a close friend A. H. Broad, pioneer citizen of Berkeley, who declared that California has lost its greatest landscape artist.

The funeral will take place on Saturday, the final arrangement not having been made today.

WITNESS IN HENRY CASE SENT TO JAIL

Peter Deane Accused of Perjury and Contempt of Court

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—At the conclusion of the morning's session in the hearing of the case of Mrs. Ivy May Henry, S. Foster Kelly and others accused of kidnapping the Henry children, Judge Mogan ordered Peter Deane, a witness, into custody on charges of perjury and contempt of court.

Owing to Deane's faltering testimony, the court had previously recommended that the prosecution submit its statements to the grand jury.

Attorney Mackenzie, who appears for Mrs. Henry's husband, made the following motion:

"I now ask the court that the witness (Deane) be placed in the custody of the sheriff on the charge of perjury."

Judge Mogan immediately acquiesced. "The court now makes that order," declared his honor, "and also orders the witness into the custody of the sheriff for contempt of court, for he did not, on his own statement, obey the instructions of the court in regard to discussing this case. It is plain and evident that he has been guilty of perjury here, not only once, but a dozen times."

Prior to the above order, which visibly disturbed Deane, the witness had admitted having a three-hour conference with Cochrane, but could not remember any of the conversation. His faulty memory, the rapid cross examination of the court and his failure to recollect things, not only caused considerable amusement, but was the feature of the day's session. The witness claimed that he was intoxicated, having been up all night before his former appearance in court but the judge held that he appeared perfectly sober.

Looking smiling and happy, with her veil drawn from her face and chatting pleasantly not only with her own counsel, but with Attorneys McKenize and Drew who appeared for her husband, Mrs. Ivy May Henry seemed to enjoy hugely the whole proceedings. Not so her affinity, S. Foster Kelly, who frowned, repeatedly bit his lips, and pulled at his goatee. Kelly is still in the custody of the sheriff.

Attorney Cochrane's repeated objections and attempts to argue in connection with the questioning of the witness Deane, brought forth a rebuke from the court and a refusal to hear more.

The court room was packed, many women availing themselves of the privilege of listening to the testimony and of getting a glimpse of the pretty mother who is fighting so hard for her children.

MOTION DENIED.

Deane was on the stand from the beginning of the morning session. He was called following the denial of a motion to quash the proceedings made by Attorney Choyenski, who held that Mrs. Henry had a legal right to her children, she having had them in this county for eighteen months, and that the local court had no jurisdiction.

When Deane took his seat he stated that he was a little hard of hearing. "I'm not fully satisfied that you are hard of hearing," said Judge Mogan. "You declared that you had a tooth pulled the last time you were here, but I will say to counsel that I tested this witness and find that he answered some questions purposely propounded in a low tone of voice."

TROOPS FAIL TO QUELL RIOTERS

Mob Holds Advancing Troops While Torches Are Applied to Wine Depot.

Women Lie in Roads and Defy Cavalrymen to Ride Over Them.

EPERNAY, Department of Marne, France, April 13.—Despite the fact that the Department of Marne is a vast armed camp with infantrymen and dragoons bivouacked throughout the night at almost every village in the champagne district, rioting broke out anew today and the flames of anger and vengeance continue to sweep the grape growing region.

At Vinay the rioters hastily threw up barriers with barrels, cases and debris of all sorts and succeeded in holding back the advancing troops, while another group of manifestants, armed with torches, entered the vast champagne depot. The mob smashed all the bottles of champagne they could find, broke the wine presses and then set fire to the buildings.

Women were foremost in the work of destruction, chanting snatches of revolutionary airs, and urging on the men. When the troops reached Vinay the women lay down on the roads and defied the cavalry to ride over them. Eventually the troops succeeded in getting control of the situation and dispersed the manifestants.

At dawn many places in the wine growing districts showed the horizon darkened by the smoking ruins of wine depots burned during the night. At the same time exploding detonators summoned additional wine growers to the different rallying points for the resumption of the march of destruction.

The government officials claim that the sack and burning of wine property is being done by criminal elements which are flocking into this region from other districts.

The public prosecutor at daylight this morning proceeded to Azy, where a conflagration started by incendiaries threatened for a time last night to destroy the entire village, and made twenty arrests among the ringleaders of the manifestants.

RIOTS AT VENTEUIL.

RHEIMS, France, April 13.—A courier arrived here today from Venteuil, the wine depot in the Department of Marne, says an overwhelming force of troops today occupied that town without bloodshed. There was considerable rioting yesterday at Venteuil, a detachment of gendarmes being compelled to use their sabres before the mob, which had destroyed several large wine presses, could be dispersed.

THIRD ARREST IS MADE HELPED ROB LANDSBURG

EDWARD EVANS (top), alias Frank Torres, who has confessed to robbing Guy Landsburg, and PETER DEL PORTO, who had in his possession Landsburg's watch.

PRISONER SAYS HE AIDED IN ROBBERY

Three Men in Jail in Connection With the Death of Youth

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—With the arrest of Frank Donley, a former sailor, on the Barbary coast at an early hour this morning, the police now have three men in custody, all of whom know more or less about the robbery of Guy M. Landsburg, the Alameda realty dealer whose body was found in the bay.

Donley is the man who was with Frank Torres when Landsburg was robbed, according to the police, and his apprehension was the result of the "peaching" of a "friend" to whom he had confided his connection with the affair.

He told this friend that he had been with Torres, alias Edward Evans, on the night of the crime, and that he was going to get out of town on a freight train because he feared that Torres would "sneak" on him. The arrest was made by Policemen Boland and Pierson, who had already taken the man into custody on a previous occasion for vagrancy.

When brought before Captain of Detectives Wall this morning Donley admitted that he had been with Torres, and says that the latter searched Landsburg, but found no money on him. He then took the watch, cuff links and fountain pen and went away to sell them. On his return he told Donley that he had obtained $3.50, and of this amount he gave him $1.25. The police are holding Donley in detention. Detectives Murphy and McQuade will endeavor to get more information out of him during the day.

Later last night, following the confession of Evans that he was Torres, and that he had robbed the Alameda lad, Peter Del Porto, floor manager of the Midway, to whom Torres sold Landsburg's watch on the night in question, was taken to police headquarters.

Frank Donley is the first of those questioned in connection with the affair.

Kleptomania May Be Cured By the Surgeon's Knife

One of the most remarkable operations in the history of medical science and surgery in this city was performed in the Merritt hospital this morning upon Mrs. Jane Thurnherr of Berkeley, who has for some time past been in constant trouble through her seeming inability to keep from taking trifles that did not belong to her. In spite of numerous arrests and confinement in jail and even in San Quentin it was found that her desire to take things did not lessen the troubles it involved, lasting not more than a few weeks.

It was through the efforts of Dr. H. N. Rowell of Berkeley, who had diagnosed the woman's case, that the authorities consented to his treating the woman in an effort to cure her of the kleptomania. He learned that at the time she was 11 or 12 years old she had received an injury to her head which had left her brain in an abnormal condition.

Nearly two weeks ago Mrs. Thurnherr was released from the county jail and taken to the hospital, where she was placed under observation. Dr. Rowell called in Dr. Charles A. Dukes of this city and the latter, assisted by Dr. A. Galbraith, handled the surgical feature of the operation. A piece of bone 1 1/2 inches square was removed from the skull and it is believed that in relieving the pressure on the brain the woman will be cured of her thieving propensity.

and pleaded with Judge Treadwell to let him down easy on the sentence. The court was moved by his appearance of humility and after considering the matter, ordered the pugilist released at midnight on Easter Sunday morning. Johnson will then have served nineteen of the twenty-five originally set.

'Li'l' Artha,' All Humility, Wins Pardon From Court

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—"Li'l Artha" Johnson, very penitent and very obsequious to acting Judge Treadwell, managed to have his sentence commuted in the police court this morning. The champion appeared to pay his $100 fine, which had been affirmed by the higher court.

BIG STORM SWEEPS DEATH

Twenty-Five Crushed and Mangled When Wind Grips Middle West

Thousands of Dollars Worth of Damage Done; 500 Are Homeless

KANSAS CITY, April 13.—Tornadoes which swept parts of Missouri, Oklahoma, Kansas and Arkansas late yesterday and last night are known to have killed twenty-five persons, injured more than 100, rendered more than 500 homeless and reported to have done thousands of dollars worth of damage to property. Of the dead only 12 have been identified. The dead are:

At Lawrence, Kas., Geraldine Melsen-helm.

At Germantown, Kas., Jan. Peiton.

At Checotah, Okla., Walter Oatman and child.

At Muskogee, Okla., four persons killed.

At Pawhattan, Kas., woman and child.

At Pownhattan, Kas., child.

At Reserve, Mrs. Fred Stone.

Meager reports received from the storm-stricken districts indicated that the storm covered a wider area than earlier information showed. The number of fatalities is still in doubt. The wire service is so nearly demoralized that definite news from many points was not obtainable.

When communication with Big Heart, Okla., was re-established this morning it was learned that two persons were killed and sixty injured, thirty-six seriously. Every business house in the town was destroyed, including two hotels, a school house and the railway station. The seriously injured were taken in a special train to Tulsa, Okla., where they were placed in a hospital. It is believed some of them are fatally hurt. The telephone wire over which this information was received is still in working order only a few moments and the names of the dead and injured are not yet obtainable.

ESCAPES INJURY.

Whiting, Kas., at first reported to have been severely sufferer, almost escaped injury. Communication with that town was not re-established until today, however, as the tornado did much damage in the farming districts, both north and south of there.

Rural telephones are all out of commission and the extent of the damage in the country is not known.

One person was killed and three seriously injured at Reserve, Kas., a small village in the northern part of the state. Mrs. Fred Stone was killed when her house collapsed. Her two sons were seriously injured. The wind was so severe that it stripped the clothing from Mrs. Stone and her children. Mrs. Roy V. Vernon was seriously hurt when her house was wrecked. The tornado completely destroyed five houses in Reserve. A report received this morning over a private wire was to the effect that three persons were killed and several houses blown down at Delaware, Okla., but no names are obtainable. Thirty-two persons were hurt, thirty houses demolished, causing a property damage estimated at $50,000. At Eskridge, Kas., a school house was destroyed and thirty school children injured, some seriously. Miss Clara Rutledge and Daniel Cousins were badly hurt by flying timbers.

Health officers are given sweeping powers regarding the disinfection of premises occupied by tubercular persons.

HIAWATHA SUFFERS.

At Hiawatha, Kas., one person was killed, four seriously injured and a number slightly hurt. Jan Pelton, aged 7 years, was killed and Laura Brown, a school teacher; Gladys Mellett, William Roberts and a man named Zimmerman were badly hurt. Twelve buildings were destroyed and the damage amounts to thousands of dollars.

SEVERAL KILLED.

According to dispatches received here this morning there were several storms. The first tornado was reported at Eskridge, Kas., twenty-five miles south of Topeka, at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Here many houses were destroyed and much damage done to crops.

TWO ARE KILLED.

At 5 o'clock last night a tornado struck Lawrence, Kas., killing two persons, injuring twelve and doing damage estimated at $75,000. This storm swept the town from the southeast to the northwest and after passing over the Kansas river continued toward Leavenworth. An hour after the first tornado struck Eskridge yesterday a tornado swept through Oklahoma, parts of Arkansas and Southwest Missouri. Big Heart, Okla., having a population of about 1000, was the first town struck. Here the storm came suddenly, tearing down houses above the heads of the people. Many rushed into the streets, only to be knocked down by flying debris, some meeting death. It was an hour after the storm before the first word reached Pawhuska. A relief train was sent to the scene immediately. At Big Heart 400 persons are homeless.

MANY TO BE HEARD FROM.

Striking Meeker, Checotah and an Indian Village near Big Heart this storm swept northwest, passing over Joplin, Mo., and other sections of the mining district. Throughout the entire territory covered by the tornadoes yesterday great damage was done to crops. Many small towns have not been heard from, and it is believed here that reports coming in today will increase the lists of the dead. The storm, which swept Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Arkansas were freaks of their kind and were not even recognized as a tornado by the farmers of Kansas, who have an acquaintance of long standing with this variety of atmospheric phenomenon. In several places farmers, who from long training seek their cyclone cellars at the approach of a tornado, remained in their homes and watched the advance of the heavy clouds, which dealt death and destruction.

Along the route of the Santa Fe Railway, engineers declared that the cloud was a typical twister. In one place, a farmer whose home is on a hill remained in his home and watched nearby houses and villages destroyed.

At Lawrence, the local company of militia was drilling and did not know there was a storm until the roof had been taken off their building. As the last of them dashed out the front door the second floor fell in. A side of the county jail was torn down and about thirty prisoners made a dash for liberty, but only three succeeded in escaping.

SHELLS CORN.

At Germantown, Kas., a merchant had a full crib of corn waiting to be shelled. He left his store shortly before the storm. When he returned his crib had been torn down, but the corn had been pretty well shelled out and the grain was scattered over the ground.

BABY BLOWN AWAY.

HOUSTON, Kas., April 13. — The most thrilling escape of Wednesday night's storm was that of a two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hayes, who reside in the Reserve district. The baby was blown away with the house as were other members of the family. After the house had been carried some distance it was torn to pieces. As quickly as possible members of the family began to count noses and found that they were all present but the baby.

Then a search was made of what ruins of the house remained. The child could not be found and his mother gave him up for lost. Then a cry was heard and, lying under a heavy kitchen stove, which still remained on its legs upon a small section of flooring the child was found. He was uninjured.

An eight-year-old son had a broken arm, but otherwise the members of the family were uninjured. Martin Schilling, a farmer in the Reserve district, was outside when the storm struck. He tried to reach shelter but a flying board struck him and broke his limb.

30 CHILDREN HURT.

ESKRIDGE, Kas., April 13. — A tornado went through the eastern part of this place yesterday from the southwest, tearing buildings to pieces and injuring a number of children who were leaving the school.

Thirty children were slightly injured. Ben Resch, a Santa Fe fireman, was hit by a flying timber and seriously hurt. Thirty houses were blown down or damaged.

The house of Robert Strathorn, six miles northeast of town, was destroyed and Mrs. Claire Rutledge, a married daughter, had an arm broken and was otherwise hurt. The barn of Arthur Clark, in the same neighborhood, was destroyed. The property loss here will be upward of fifty thousand dollars.

THREE KILLED.

PLUMMERVILLE, Ark., April 13. — Three persons were killed and a score of others were severely injured in a wind storm which swept through this place last night.

TOWN IS WRECKED.

HOLT, Mo., April 13. — The storm did much damage here, scarcely a house in the town escaping injury from the wind and hail. There were no casualties, however. A Chicago, Burlington & Quincy passenger train arrived at Holt, just as the storm struck here and the hail broke many windows of the cars, badly frightening the passengers.

Forty houses were wrecked at Lawrence, Kas., where two persons were killed and two seriously injured. Mrs. Joseph Sullivan and Mrs. Ethel Wheeler were killed. James Pike, aged 70, and Dave Wheeler, husband of Mrs. Wheeler, were badly hurt.

The two killed at Big Heart, Okla., were Frank Kern and T. S. Hahn.

RELIEF TRAIN ARRIVES.

The relief train from Big Heart reached Tulsa at 2:40 this afternoon and the injured persons were placed in hospitals. Several of the storm victims are expected to die. When a Midland Valley train arrived at Big Heart last night the crew had to clear wreckage from the track before they could proceed. When the news reached here a special train with nurses and physicians rushed to the distressed city. The relief party found the town in ruins. The tornado was accompanied by a driving rain, which probably saved the town from a disastrous fire.

"HOOSIER POET" NEAR LAST VERSE OF LIFE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 13. — James Whitcomb Riley, the noted Hoosier poet, has lost complete use of his hands, and the celebrated author is only a shadow of his former self.

It is feared that the lingering illness which has kept Riley confined to his bed for the greater part of the last few months will soon claim him by death. Practically no one except the immediate members of the family has been permitted to see Riley for a fortnight. However, by special permission yesterday, a school teacher was permitted as an embassy of a class of school children to speak with the famous poet. The children sent him a bunch of roses.

HANGMAN MAY PUT SEAL ON MYSTERY

Convicted Murderer Supposed to Know How Chicagoan Vanished.

W. F. Jahns to Die on Gallows for Killing His Housekeeper at Walla Walla.

SPOKANE, April 13. — With the hanging of Wm. Frederick Jahns, alias James Logan, in Walla Walla penitentiary on June 21, may vanish the last chance to solve the mysterious disappearance of D. R. Shively, a Chicago merchant.

Four years ago Shively sold his farm near Addy, Wash., to Logan, received the money and vanished. Logan made his home on the farm and engaged Mrs. Agnes Jensen as his housekeeper. Later her charred body was found by hunters in the ashes of a camp fire in a lonely part of Stevens county. Logan was charged with the crime, convicted and sentenced to be hanged.

Two weeks ago the burning of a big pile of refuse at a saw mill near Addy exposed a large box carefully buried in the sawdust. In the box were the remains of a man. The box tallied with the description of one shipped from Spokane by Logan at the time Shively disappeared, and the size of the body, the absence of one joint of a finger and other signs, indicated that the body is that of the missing Chicago man. It is also remembered that before the body was found, when Logan was passing the same sawdust pile on his way to the penitentiary, he remarked: "I know where Shively is and can produce him. He is in Alaska."

fair to give a concise account of the robbery of the Alameda boy.

"Torres and I took Landsburg to a doorway," he said, "and after Torres had gone through his pockets, Landsburg got up and says, 'I guess you've got everything now.' He then went down Broadway toward Kearny and fell once, picking himself up again. We waited awhile and then we walked down toward the coast. At Pacific and Bartlett alley we saw him standing as we passed. We didn't pay any attention to him and that's all there was to that."

Donley says that all this occurred between 10:30 and 12 o'clock. If this is true the time fixed by the friends of the dead boy when they last saw him is a mistake. They had the idea that it was considerably later than 10:30 when they lost Landsburg, fixing the hour as the time when Jack Johnson and a party of friends entered the Midway. Johnson is authority for the statement that he was there precisely at 10:30 o'clock.

City Wants Waterfront Property Claimed by Samuel Merritt Hospital.

California Branch of Association Will Be Invited Guests.

On behalf of the municipality of Oakland, City Attorney B. F. Woolner this morning filed in the superior court a suit against Peter L. Wheeler, William B. Bosley and Dr. S. H. Buteau as trustees of the Samuel Merritt hospital for the condemnation of waterfront improvement purposes of an entire block of property owned by the hospital and lying between Washington and Clay streets and south of First street to the estuary low tide line of 1852. The question in controversy is over the exact location of the line, the hospital claiming an area of about 140,000 square feet in its property and the city contending that it is much less. Property adjoining the hospital's holdings on the west is held at $1.50 a square foot, but that in litigation has never been appraised.

The members of California Branch, Association of Collegiate Alumnae, have been invited by Mrs. S. B. Mills and Dr. Carson to be their guests on Saturday, April 22, at a luncheon and afternoon at Mills College. The regular business meeting will be held at Lasser Hall at 12:30 p. m., and delegates will be elected to the State Federation meeting at Long Beach May 10 to 16. The luncheon will take place at 1 o'clock, with words of welcome by Mrs. Mills and Dr. Carson. At 2:30, in the new gymnasium, the sophomore class of Mills College will present "Trial by Jury," a dramatic cantata.

It is better than mushy porridges because you have to chew it, thereby getting from it all its rich, body-building nutriment.

Try it for breakfast with milk or cream (hot milk in Winter). Being in biscuit form it is easy to prepare a nourishing meal with it in a few minutes in combination with fresh or stewed fruits. LESS THAN 25 AT F. F. JACKSON MEETING

Fruitvale Hall Has Few to Hear Candidate for the Mayoralty.

The meeting held in Fruitvale hall, Dimond, last night, by F. F. Jackson, was anything but satisfactory to the candidate for the Oakland mayoralty. The gathering was one of the smallest which has ever congregated at a political meeting in that section, barely twenty-five persons being present, counting the candidates. At the Mott meeting, the evening before, Fruitvale hall was packed to the doors.

Denunciations of the present administration were made by Jackson and his associates, but these were convincingly refuted by friends of the Mott regime who were in positions to know the truth of their statements.

The harbor and waterfront improvements were among the subjects of the evening, Jackson claiming to himself have been the instigator of those projects.

CRITICISE MAYOR.
Mott's administration was criticized, and finally various city departments were the subjects of unfavorable comment. The street department in particular being attacked by J. J. Naegle, candidate for Commissioner No. 2, who called attention to an alleged waste in street sprinkling, the tearing up of streets continually, etc.

Naegle was answered by C. E. Clark, accountant for the street department, and a resident of Dimond. Clark figures to back up his statements, which were so convincing that Naegle was forced to amend his statements before the evening was over.

Clark stated that Mr. Naegle had not properly informed himself in the matter, and Naegle and those present were invited to inspect the books of the department and learn how economically the department was run and what accurate account of the cost was kept in order to reduce expenses. Naegle had proposed contract labor for street sprinkling when it had been proved by comparison of costs that the city was kept in order by hire union teamsters at union wages and at union hours. Teamsters understood the proper amount of water to be distributed, which was better than to let the job out to contractors who employed inexperienced boys.

Naegle's statement that all the teams started to work from one corporation yard and lost much time going to and coming from work, was refuted by Clark showing that teams for certain districts went from a yard in that district — one in Melrose, one at 11th and Fallon and one at 52nd street.

REFUTE CLAIMS.
The statement that three foremen were required to flush sewers was refuted by showing that one foreman and small gang at reasonable wages.

Clark also told of the enormous amount of labor done on sewers, especially in the late severe storms by regular gangs of men for the entire city. Clark invited all present to come and see the bills and ascertain the number of gallons of salt water used, where used and the cost per mile.

He showed the necessity of doing certain street work at certain seasons and under certain climatic conditions and that one person was on duty at all times of the city employed on repairing bluminous streets, but that the men at work were employees of private corporations who were under contract with the city at so much per square foot repaired, and all bills were passed upon by the city council.

The lessening cost to the city was shown by the bill of the macadam streets instead of from the sprinkling streets, which decreased the cost of keeping them in condition more than one-half. It was shown that accurate account was kept of all costs in order to ascertain the best methods of keeping down expenses and keeping up improvement.

about which we hear so much, does not mean living on one food exclusively, but on foods that harmonize.
Certain elements of nutrition are essential to health, but all of these elements cannot be obtained from any one food — hence the necessity of a variety. Deficiency of one or more of these elements, such as iron, for instance, in the blood, will cause anemia, run-down condition and sleeplessness.

If you are one of the unfortunates who have drifted into this state, change your diet, eat foods that are rich in the mineral elements of nutrition, and take Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, which contains no oil and supplies iron to the blood in the most easily assimilated form.

Vinol creates an appetite, aids digestion, makes pure, healthy blood. In this natural manner it builds up the run-down, weak and debilitated. If you don't find this to be a fact we will return your money if you will try a bottle. The Owl Drug Co., Oakland, Cal.

SAMPLE BALLOT CONFUSES VOTERS

City Clerk to Send Special Printed Instructions to All Voting Places.

The new form of ballot made necessary by the new method of voting initiated by the city charter is creating some confusion and a number of electors have called at the office of the city clerk to have the sample ballot explained to them. The confusion has arisen as a result of the fact that over each name in the columns of candidates for the twelve offices the words "Vote for one" are printed. Several voters have asked whether this means that they are to vote for each one of the names in the columns.

The new charter provides that the names of the candidates shall be printed in parallel columns, one column for each office to be filled. There are twelve offices to be filled, and as the State printing office was unable to provide ballot paper large enough to carry twelve columns in parallel, the ballot was made a compromise of six columns, each column being provided. In the upper tier are the candidates for mayor, auditor and a column each for the four sets of candidates for commissioners. In the lower tier are the six candidates for school directors, Nos. 1 to 6.

In the column for mayor there are six candidates named, and over each name is the instruction to "Vote for one." To make it impossible for each voter to give his vote to all the candidates, the city clerk Thompson is sending out circulars to all the voting places with definite instructions as to the manner of voting. The instructions are drawn up to make it clear to each voter that there is but one candidate to be voted for in each of the twelve columns, and that the placing of more than twelve crosses on ballot will make it void.

FIRST BIG GUN IS FIRED

Splendid Residence Section to Be Sold.

The Realty Syndicate is planning to give residents of Alameda county something particularly fine in the way of subdivision improvements. In Piedmont Manor, the new tract now being placed upon the market, home owners will find some of the most attractive and charming features that were ever incorporated into a project of this kind in the State.

For example, instead of macadamizing the streets in the usual manner, they will be constructed of asphalt macadam similar to the downtown streets of Oakland. This work is done with hot rollers and iron, leaving a smooth, hard surface of great wearing quality. All curbs and gutters will be concrete instead of wooden, as is so often the case. All sewers, water gas and electric mains and pipes will be run down the back of the lots upon a strip of land reserved for this purpose.

In speaking of their plans, Mr. Nat M. Crossley, manager of the Realty Syndicate, stated that he was aiming to give buyers the best improved piece of property the Syndicate ever placed upon the market.

They are going to spare no expense in making Piedmont Manor very beautiful," said Mr. Crossley. "We have been planning its setting for a long time and are convinced that it will be a great credit to our concern. I personally think that it is the most artistically planned tract I have ever seen. It was laid out by Mr. H. H. and he will be treated the property as an entirety, and who studied every lot, street, park and boulevard curve in its relation to the whole setting, with the result that the entire subdivision has a charm and distinction which would be lacking by any other than a skillful artistic treatment."

PHYSICIAN SAID APPENDICITIS

Gall Stones Expelled by the Great Kidney Preparation.

I thought I would do you a favor and let you know what Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root has done so far for me. About one year ago I was taken sick with a terrible pain in my right side. My family physician pronounced it appendicitis. About two weeks ago I received your Almanac and read in it about weak kidneys, and my back hurting me so much. I thought I would try your Swamp-Root, and to my great astonishment, after using one bottle, I expelled three gall stones, which weighed 135 grains — just think of it. My kidneys are not well yet, and so I have concluded to continue with Swamp-Root. Mr. Schwake, the druggist, thought that it never was appendicitis and that the doctor had made a mistake. It was, no doubt, gall stones that caused the trouble, or they would not have come away so soon after commencing with Swamp-Root.

I shall always praise Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, to all those who suffer from kidney, liver and bladder troubles, and am very thankful that I ever discovered such a worthy remedy. I feel confident that it will cure me entirely of all kidney and liver trouble.

HURLS HYMN BOOKS AT CHURCH SLEEPERS

LOS ANGELES, April 13. — Incensed because two men in the congregation slept and snored while he was conducting a service, Dr. R. H. Crossfield, a revivalist, hurled hymnbooks at the offenders.

After calling attention to the fact that he was being listened to attentively by all but two of the congregation, the doctor observed that one of the transgressors awoke with a guilty smile.

The other, however, was not disturbed by such a soft rebuke, and his deafening snore grew into a sonorous snore.

The Kentucky parson, keeping right on with the sermon, began to shy hymnbooks at the unconscious protagonist. "Bang! bang! bang!" went one book after another until the audience was in a titter; but the man simply opened his eyes for a moment, shifted his position from full face to profile and slept on until the benediction.

How to Save $1000

Can you save $1000 during the next five years? Perhaps that seems like a hard task to you, but did you ever stop to figure out just what it means? Suppose for a moment you open an account in this bank with that idea in mind — this is about the way it would work out:

FIRST YEAR YOU SAVE.....	$196.40
WE ADD INTEREST.....	3.60
SECOND YEAR YOU SAVE.....	188.32
WE ADD INTEREST.....	11.68
THIRD YEAR YOU SAVE.....	180.24
WE ADD INTEREST.....	19.76
FOURTH YEAR YOU SAVE.....	172.16
WE ADD INTEREST.....	27.84
FIFTH YEAR YOU SAVE.....	164.08
WE ADD INTEREST.....	35.92
$1,000.00

In other words, during the first year it will be necessary for you to save about sixty-five cents each working day, and on the fifth year about fifty-five cents each working day. In reality you would probably be able to save at least sixty-five cents per day for all the years, which would leave you considerably more than $1,000.

But the point we wish to emphasize is how the interest accumulates. You will notice that it amounts to practically $100, while you deposit $300: in other words, on the average for every $9.00 you deposit the bank adds $1.00 interest. It illustrates forcibly the advantage of building up a surplus while young, for in a very few years the interest will contribute largely to your income.

If you have no savings account at the present time, open one with this bank — the Savings Department of The First National Bank of Oakland. $1.00 is sufficient to start, and 4 per cent interest is paid on deposits.

We loan small "book" banks free to depositors, in which money can be accumulated and the bank brought in occasionally to be emptied and the amount credited.

OAKLAND UNION MEN PRAISE FREDERICKSON

Attitude Toward Organized Labor Is Commended at Meeting; Veiled Attack Is Denounced

Last night in Blackman hall, in East Fourteenth street, the residents, among them many union labor men, disapproved the insinuation that P. C. Frederickson was an opponent of union labor, made for the purpose of injuring him at the primaries on Tuesday next. They showed that the deception had been practiced for the purpose of assisting John Forrest, who happens to have received the endorsement of less than half a hundred people who assumed the name of an organization to falsely convey the idea that the Central Labor Council was behind Forrest's candidacy. It was further shown that the organization behind Forrest comprised thirty-two men over whom Forrest himself had presided.

A fac-simile of the deceitful card misrepresenting the facts was published in THE TRIBUNE yesterday. At the meeting last night the matter was brought to the attention of the Greater Oakland Progressive Club by William Atkinson, president of the Carpenters' Union. He referred to the card which bore the endorsement of what purported to be a "labor council." He declared that there was no such organization in this city. He had been a resident here for years and had never heard of such an organization. Five weeks ago he had been invited to attend a meeting at labor headquarters, but he did not go. He had sent a brother-in-law there for the purpose of ascertaining what was done. At the meeting the men present called the organization the "Labor Council Club." There were thirty-six men in the gathering. The chair was occupied by John Forrest. He did not vote for himself and there were just thirty-three left to vote. That was the extent of the organization that gave Forrest the support.

PRAISES FREDERICKSON.

L. C. Grasser said that the Greater Oakland Progressive Club proposed to rebuke the people who had tried to injure the character and the standing of P. C. Frederickson in the district and in the city. As a union labor man he desired to say that Frederickson had never been hostile to labor. He had always been in favor of equitable legislation.

Bearing these things in mind there had been formed the P. C. Frederickson Union Labor Club, which had now a membership of 400 devoted union labor adherents. The movement was not to end there. They proposed to keep up the fight till May 9.

He then asked Mr. Ward to read the resolution showing that Frederickson was considered by the union labor men as a friend of labor, as also that he had been considered by well-known leaders of the movement.

The first endorsement was that of the P. C. Frederickson Union Labor Club, which is as follows: "Whereas, the undersigned in becoming members of the above club promise and pledge to support the candidacy of said P. C. Frederickson for commissioner No. 4, believing that his past record has always been with labor, and, furthermore, we believe that of all candidates for commissioner No. 4 P. C. Frederickson is the truest friend we have."

OTHER RESOLUTIONS.

Ward then read the endorsement which the Union Labor Club gave Frederickson growing out of misrepresentation of letters which Frederickson had written to Senator Hans in Sacramento asking the latter to give his support to measures before the legislature in favor of union labor.

This correspondence is included in the following resolution, adopted by the P. C. Frederickson Union Labor Club as follows:

"WHEREAS, Certain persons have circulated anonymous cards, containing malicious falsehoods concerning Mr. P. C. Frederickson, candidate for the nomination of Commissioner No. 4 as to his attitude toward organized labor, and particularly the Eight Hour Bill for Women, and

"WHEREAS, After a very careful investigation we find that Mr. P. C. Frederickson has always been fair and honest with labor and his attitude on the Eight Hour Bill for Women is explained by the following letters:

"Fruitvale, Cal., Jan. 15, 1911. Hon. Geo. J. Hans, State Capitol, Sacramento, Cal.: Dear Senator—I write you this letter at the request of some of my friends who are interested in the labor movement. They are desirous of obtaining certain legislation favorable to Union Labor. I have always been in favor of any just and equitable legislation that would tend to uplift the cause of the working people; therefore I earnestly request you as a friend and as a constituent, to cast your vote in favor of Union Labor bills. Very truly yours,

"P. C. FREDERICKSON."

L. C. Grasser wrote to Jan. 1, Nolan on the subject and received the following reply:

"Sacramento, Cal., Feb. 22, 1911. L. C. Grasser, 3002 High street, Oakland, Cal.: Dear Sir and Brother—Your letter of February 8 relative to Mr. Frederickson, received. In reply will say that I met Mr. Frederickson on his recent visit to Sacramento and had a talk with him regarding the subject matter contained in your letter, to wit: His position in Oakland Chamber of Commerce regarding the Female Eight Hour Law. I am satisfied that Mr. Frederickson's position in this matter was due to misrepresentation on the part of the people connected with the Oakland Chamber of Commerce and the California Cotton Mills of East Oakland. The policy of the opponents of this bill in their campaign has been one of misrepresentation and as far as we are concerned there is no doubt in my mind that many people who are like Mr. Frederickson, inclined to be friendly, have been misrepresented.

"You can be assured, that as far as our end of it is concerned, we thoroughly understand his position. With best wishes, I remain, fraternally yours,

"JOHN I. NOLAN,

"Legislative Agent S. F. Labor Council."

ANOTHER LETTER.

Here is still another letter on the subject:

"Sacramento, Cal., Feb. 23, 1911. Mr. Chas. H. McConaughy, 3955 22nd street, San Francisco, Cal.: Dear Sir and Brother—Your letter of February 21 in reference to Mr. P. C. Frederickson of Oakland received, and in reply will state that I have written Brother L. C. Grasser, business agent of the Electrical Workers Union No. 404, of Oakland, on this subject.

"I can readily understand, owing to the tactics used by the California Cotton Mills of Oakland, circulating petitions among their employees against the Eight Hour Bill for Women, that Mr. Frederickson and many other friends to organized labor could have been deceived. Senator Hans was kind enough to show me a letter written to him by Mr. Frederickson some time ago asking the senator to use his influence in the interest of any legislation that would be beneficial to organized labor. I am perfectly satisfied on my part that Mr. Frederickson among many others was deceived by this proposition. Fraternally yours,

"JOHN I. NOLAN,

"Per J. Legislative Agent."

ALDEN TURNS OUT TO GREET THE MAYOR

Mott Wildly Cheered When He Speaks at 45th and Telegraph.

A rousing Mott meeting was held last night under the auspices of the Amalgamated and Alden Good Government clubs, at Pizzola hall, Forty-fifth and Telegraph avenue. The building was packed, many having staying the entire evening. Many prominent business men of the section were present. W. H. O'Connor, of the First Ward Improvement club, presiding. The speakers, beside the mayor, were City Engineer Turner, candidate for Commissioner No. 3; John Forrest, candidate for Commissioner No. 4; City Auditor George Gross, candidate for reelection to that office; Edwin Meese, present city treasurer, candidate for Commissioner No. 1; R. C. Vose, candidate for Commissioner No. 4; A. S. Kelly, candidate for School Director No. 1; W. Byrns, candidate for School Director No. 4; and Charles Quayle, running for School Director No. 3.

TURNER SPEAKS.

City Engineer Turner was the first speaker. He said in part:

"This campaign is of more importance than many of the voters realize, as the position at the head of the city government will be held by your representatives for just twice as long as formerly under the new charter. The new instrument is an attempt at direct legislation, instead of the old system and it centralizes the responsibility upon your representatives.

Turner then praised Mayor Frank K. Mott and was cheered to the echo. He said that loyal citizens cannot afford to elect an untalented mayor at this juncture, as a former freetholder who helped make the new Oakland charter, he was more familiar than any of his opponents for Commissioner No. 4, and pledged himself to carry out the aims of the new organ to the best of his ability.

MOTT ARRIVES.

When Mayor Frank K. Mott entered the hall after having addressed two meetings earlier in the evening, a wild cheer greeted him, and the band, which was a "good one," started up afresh. The mayor then addressed the constituents and said:

"The people seem to be awake to the importance of having a city administration composed of men with business heads if they want prosperity in their city and it is with pleasure that I realize it. It is the only way Oakland can go ahead as a city. Like all good citizens I am, and have been, impatient of apparent unnecessary delays in carrying out of public improvements. But, it is necessary progress must be made slowly but surely. The administration has to keep within the budget and is often hampered thereby. So the people must not be impatient. The city government of which I have the honor of being the head has started immense municipal improvements which I will carry through if you will re-elect me. I think I have proved myself worthy of that office. There has been the usual eleventh-hour mud-slinging by my opponents which I expected, but I admit that it hurts me to see men turn to such methods.

BEAUTIFYING THE CITY.

"I now have in view a plan for the beautifying of our city which I want to carry out. That is one thing which Oakland is lacking. I want to see shade trees planted along all the main thoroughfares. Telegraph avenue, which passes through the heart of this city, should be asphalted to the Berkeley line and provided with shade trees on either side. If I am allowed to put this scheme through, it will result in increasing the value of property in this portion of town."

The meeting closed with a few remarks from Edwin Meese, city treasurer, and Councilman R. C. Vose. The following business men are among the many of the section who have endorsed Mayor Mott as candidate for re-election:

A. Van der Nallen, Jr., E. O. Cole, J. H. Moller, E. Le Pratt, J. Le Pratt, Robert Garner, L. Boss, J. Solomon, Calindo, Frank Galmarrino, C. O. Pratt, W. C. De Carr, John Dacha, Corrado, William Casserly, John Ruggero, G. Cavallero, J. F. Mackenzie, George A. Doud, P. McDonald.

MEMBERS ENROLLED.

At the meeting of the Civic Betterment Club, at 1462 Seventh street, Thomas Coyne, president of the organization, presided. Thirty-one new members were enrolled and reports from the various committees showed that all along the line of the club's operation results of a most encouraging and a permanent character were being achieved.

The principal speaker at last night's session was Councilman Matt Bruner. Addresses were also made by County Auditor E. F. Garrison, Deputy Sheriff Joseph J. Moffitt and other prominent workers in the association. All of the speakers went upon the necessity of cooperation by the people of the West End, regardless of political affiliations, to pull together for the civic betterment of their section and pointed out some of the things most needed to improve conditions in the district.

The Seventh Ward Civic Betterment Club is non-political, being devoted exclusively to the advancement of the West End along progressive lines of civic endeavor.

The Center Station Betterment Club Holds Rousing Meeting.

A meeting of the Center Station Betterment Club was held at 1507 Seventh street last evening, and was well attended by residents in the vicinity of Center station. An able address was made by J. H. Schaffer on the admirable record of William J. Baccus, councilman from the Sixth ward and chairman of the street committee for the last four years. He commented upon the number of street improvements that came under the direction of Baccus, especially the number of permanently paved streets that have been put in during that period. He also stood on the Seventh street franchise matter. Schaffer said that inasmuch as Baccus was a candidate for commissioner No. 2, he believed it to be the duty of each and every member of the club to take off his coat on election day and do all they could to see that Baccus was elected.

What Jackson's Candidacy Really Means

EVERY person familiar with the political situation in this city knows that Dr. F. F. Jackson is a dummy for County Assessor Henry P. Dalton. He is Mr. Dalton's understudy and emissary in municipal politics. Mr. Dalton originally groomed him for the mayoralty and put him in the race two years ago. He has had Dr. Jackson in training ever since. He is directing the Jackson campaign now. If Jackson should be elected Henry P. Dalton will be the real mayor of this city.

Henry Dalton & Sons, of which firm Assessor Henry P. Dalton is a member, is now trying to hold up the dock and wharf improvement the city is carrying out on the western front. Mr. Dalton's firm has sued the Key Route company for closing up the water approach to the Dalton foundry, claiming damages in the sum of $331,000. This suit is directed at the city of Oakland for it is the city that is building the bulkhead the Daltons complain of and the structures the Key Route company proposes to erect will be erected under lease from the city.

Hence the action instituted against the Key Route company is directed against the city and the port facilities the city is now constructing in the Key Route basin. This fact gives Dr. Jackson's candidacy a sinister importance.

If the mayor should acknowledge that the Dalton firm had substantial rights on the western waterfront that were being infringed, the improvement of the Key Route basin might be held up and involved in litigation for years to come. Hence the danger of electing a man who is a partisan and political protege of a man who is an interested enemy of the improvements projected on the western waterfront. It would be in his power to concede away some of the city's rights and connive at proceedings which would cause a suspension for a long period of the improvements now in progress.

It should be remembered that Dr. Jackson covertly fought the bond issue for improving the waterfront. So did Mr. Dalton; indeed, the manner in which the campaign against the bonds was conducted indicated that there was the same concert of action between the two then that there is now.

It is easy, therefore, to perceive the menace to the western waterfront improvement that Dr. Jackson's candidacy involves. He fought the project in the council and again at the polls, and all his speeches in this campaign are unfriendly in tone to the scheme of waterfront improvement.

In this connection, it is well to recall Dr. Jackson's disloyalty to the city during the annexation campaign. On the eve of the election he came out in an interview printed in the San Francisco papers advising the citizens of the annexed district to vote against annexation. At the very last moment he lifted a traitorous voice against municipal consolidation on this side of the bay. He proved himself an enemy of the Greater Oakland. Here again he followed the lead of Henry P. Dalton.

But it is the bearing Dr. Jackson's candidacy has on the waterfront improvements that chiefly demands consideration at this moment. If it be wise at any time to put Assessor Dalton's deputy in the mayor's chair, it would be unwise in the present instance. If Jackson could be imagined to be at any time a fit candidate for mayor, his candidacy under existing circumstances can only be regarded as a menace to the city's welfare and property rights. The instrument of another, he is a marplot and a disturber—a man whose kicking and knocking are expressive only of Henry P. Dalton's animosities and designs.

This is not said because there is any likelihood that Dr. Jackson will be elected, but because the people ought to be made acquainted with the facts of the situation and informed as to the meaning of Dr. Jackson's peculiar attitude and his candidacy for mayor.

Auditor Gross' Splendid Record.

Since his first election to the office of City Auditor and Assessor four years ago, as the successor of Arthur H. Breed, George E. Gross has been responsible for more genuine reforms being made in the methods of transacting the financial business of the city departments than were ever attempted to be made by any of his predecessors. Through these reforms both the city and its employees have profited. Thousands of dollars were saved annually to the city employees when Gross arranged with the City Treasurer that all city salaries should be paid in cash monthly when due. This put a stop to the issuance and the discounting of warrants during the first five months of each fiscal year, or until the regular salary fund was replenished by collections of the first installment of taxes. It put the money-lenders, who were reaping a rich harvest by shaving warrants, permanently out of business, and city employees got the benefit of their full salaries. Gross put a stop to another vicious practice by prohibiting the assignment of salaries to money brokers. Before he refused to recognize salary assignments many of the city employees had been in the habit of making them in advance, and thus placing themselves always at the mercy of the brokers. Besides saving the discount to which his salary assignment was subjected, the Auditor's course of action compelled the city employee to reform his habits and live within his salary as being actually earned.

Another important reform which Auditor Gross has introduced is the installation of a pay-car service whereby all street and park employees are paid off on the regular monthly pay day at the place where they are at work. This change has done away with the practice of requiring these outside employees to visit the Treasurer's office on pay day and submit to a long wait in line before reaching the window in their turn to draw their money. The auto pay-car service has thus been doubly beneficial. It has been a time and labor-saving agent to the city and a great convenience to the street and park laborers.

As assessor, Gross has shown no discrimination in the assessing of property between the large property owners and the corporations and the small property owners. The properties of all classes have been assessed on the same equitable basis, which fact is readily sustained by an examination of his assessment rolls.

Gross is, moreover, the first Auditor and Assessor of Oakland to make a clear, concise and intelligent report of the financial affairs of the various departments of the city government. His last report, for the fiscal year 1909-10, has drawn from Alonzo Tweedale, president of the National Association of Comptrollers and Accounting Officers, Washington, D. C., the high and merited compliment of being a model of "clarity and brevity" and that the conformity of the arrangement of its headings with the reports of a number of other municipalities and its confinement to the business of the fiscal year, which he highly commends as a new departure in the methods of reporting, add immensely to its convenience in making comparisons with the cost of government in other cities.

Auditor Gross has made such an efficient officer that his retention in the city's service is imperative. Fortunately the great majority of Oakland's citizens understand and appreciate thoroughly his value and endorse his candidacy for re-election. As he will have but one competitor at the primary—namely, the Socialist nominee—his election then by an overwhelming majority is assured.

Hunnell, Kansas, is rightly named. Politically speaking, it is, or should be, a well of honey. It has a woman Mayor and a woman Chief of Police. Surely the public business will be transacted in a perfectly lady-like manner.

Value of Western Waterfront Improvements

At the Forum luncheon of the Businessmen's Mott Club yesterday, attended by over 250 of Oakland's principal and most influential business and professional men, and at which Mayor Mott was the guest of honor, the great municipal improvements and projects inaugurated by the Mayor during the period he has held the office, constituted the dominant note of all of the speeches made. Many of these improvements are already accomplished facts and Oakland is reaping the benefit from them. But the greater and more important of the projects inaugurated are now in course of development and will necessarily take time to complete. The greatest and most important of these is the improvement in progress on the western waterfront, which involves the preparatory bulkheading and reclamation of approximately four hundred acres of submerged tide-lands, to be followed by the construction of a long line of permanent wharves at which the largest ships engaged in deep-sea commerce will be moored and every facility provided for the handling of commerce between ship and car at a minimum of cost and a maximum of convenience.

The control and ownership of the 400 acres of reclaimed land are perpetually vested in the municipality. When the wharves are built this vast area will at once become available for warehouse and manufacturing sites and will be readily leased for such purposes at remunerative rents. The Mayor's speech was chiefly devoted to the great benefits which will accrue to the municipality from this western waterfront improvement. He estimated that the acreage reclaimed will be worth at least $10,000,000, and there can be no doubt in the mind of every right-thinking citizen that his appraisal of its value is conservative and well within the mark. It will yield large revenues to the city perpetually.

The important commercial waterfront improvement thus in progress of development on the western waterfront, for whose initiation Oakland is indebted directly to Mayor Mott, may be fairly stated to be among the greatest of the achievements for the city's benefit accomplished under his administration. It is true that for a few years the burden of making this waterfront improvement may be more or less onerous to taxpayers. But the results which will ultimately accrue from it will amply compensate them for the temporary cost. The Mayor estimates the cost of reclamation at $1,000,000. But the investment gives positive promise of returning a tenfold profit at once in the value of the land reclaimed, besides the enormous revenues which will be derived perpetually from the leaseholds that will follow the construction of the wharves fronting on it. Every right-minded citizen will without hesitation concede that the great public enterprise which the Mayor has thus inaugurated in the western waterfront is wise and will prove to be an immensely profitable business achievement for the city's benefit and will stand as a monument for all time to the enlightened policies which have marked the whole course of his administration of the city's affairs. Obviously, Mott should be retained in office to carry out these great improvements to completion on the lines on which they have been started and which the electors of this city have practically unanimously approved. It would be the height of folly to transfer their care and fate into the hands of men who have not at any time shown a friendly disposition toward them and who would, in all probability, hamper their development.

Raleigh, N. C., has voted on a proposition to adopt the commission form of government.

Rioting in the French Wine Districts.

The destructive riots which are now raging in the wine districts of France are among the most remarkable demonstrations in which that impulsive nation has figured in many years past. The riots grow out of the proposition to suppress or abolish the delimitation of the champagne and other special wine-producing districts, and were started by the adoption of a resolution to that end by the French Senate on Tuesday.

Under the delimitation law only such special wines as are produced in these particular districts are permitted to be labeled and marketed. Each delimited district has thus enjoyed an exclusive monopoly in the marketing of the special brand of wine it produces. Removing the limitations and the restrictions placed on labeling and opening the entire wine-producing area of the country to competition by vinegrowers and bottlers and vintners, has the effect of destroying the monopoly. It has resulted in the inauguration of a sectional war in which the vinegrowers of the champagne district have taken the initiative.

Thousands of the champagne district vinegrowers have raised the red flag and are now engaged in applying the torch to the establishments and destroying the contents of the cellars of firms that have been engaged in the manufacture and sale of champagne from grapes produced in outside districts. The military have been called out to suppress the disturbances and to prevent the further destruction of property; but the uprising threatens to extend to other delimited districts and there is no telling where the trouble will end if the action taken by the Senate, which apparently meets with the approval of the government, is not repealed.

Several days ago the owner of a string of cheap restaurants in New York was indicted for serving to his customers spoiled hams, decaying sausage and rotten canned tomatoes. It transpired at the hearing in court that the stuff had been purchased at a government sale of condemned goods. The hams, sausage and tomatoes were originally purchased for army supplies, but had become damaged and were condemned as unfit for food. Instead of being destroyed, as they should have been, they were sold at auction. Had a private citizen offered such goods for sale he would have been arrested and punished, which would have been entirely proper. But why does the government set the example in violating sanitary and pure food laws? Why does it put upon the market decayed and diseased food-stuffs that private persons are punished for selling? In this instance the restaurant keeper is treated as a malefactor for doing precisely what the government did—he sold the rotten stuff that the government sold him. It is true that the purchaser knew he was buying condemned goods, but why does the government sell such stuff? It has no legitimate excuse for putting putrid meats on the market.

A pretty wedding took place Thursday afternoon, April 9, at 3 o'clock in the church of the Immaculate Conception when Father McSweeney united Albert Grimes Davis and Miss Mary M. Poor in marriage. The bride, who was attired in a traveling dress, was attended by the bridesmaid, Miss Anita Davis, while George H. Davis acted as best man for the groom. Only the immediate friends of the couple were present. Mr. and Mrs. Davis will leave on a short wedding tour and when they return will reside in Oakland.

The gold was in ingots varying in size from an inch to six or seven in length, and weighed between five and seven pounds. In all there was about 160 pounds of the metal.

Woman's Danger Periods Made Safe

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The Change of Life is the most critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease.

Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs. Here is proof:

Natick, Mass.—“I cannot express what I went through during the Change of Life before I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in such a nervous condition I could not keep still. My limbs were cold. I had creepy sensations and could not sleep nights. I was finally told by two physicians that I had a tumor.

“I read one day of the wonderful cures made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it, and it has made me a well woman. My neighbors and friends declare it has worked a miracle for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth its weight in gold for women during this period of life. If it will help others you may publish this letter.”—Mrs. Nathan B. Groaton, 51 No. Main St., Natick, Mass.

ANOTHER SIMILAR CASE.

Cornwallville, N. Y.—“I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for some time for Change of Life, nervousness, and a fibroid growth.

“Two doctors advised me to go to the hospital, but one day while I was away visiting, I met a woman who told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and I know it helped me wonderfully. I am very thankful that I was told to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.”—Mrs. Wm. Boughton, Cornwallville, N. Y., Greene Co.

The makers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have thousands of such letters as those above—they tell the truth, else they could not have been obtained for love or money. This medicine is no stranger—it has stood the test for years.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

HOTELING AT BEST IN SPARKLING COMEDY

Oakland Actor Scores Biggest Hit of Career as Sir John Cotswold Bart.

“THE HOUSE NEXT DOOR”
CAREFULLY PRESENTED

Bishop Players Seen to Advantage in Roles That Call for Good Acting.

(By LEO LEVY.)

Richard Hotelling springs a surprise and clinches a denial in “The House Next Door,” at Ye Liberty, this week. His ability to conceal his identity in the character he portrays places him on a level in this respect with most of those whose names have become household fixtures. And secondly, Hotelling puts at rest the claims of some inclined to sneer that he is merely an aboriginal with a fervid desire to get it out of his system. As Sir John Cotswold he does a piece of character work that is better even than his Shakespearean heroes and above the standard set by his David Quixano. Settling aside his first five minutes in “The House Next Door” it is not presenting him with a bouquet of idle flattery to say his Sir John is the best bit of character work Oakland has had this season.

Hotelling is seen as Sir John Cotswold, Bart., an irascible old gentleman, reduced to poverty through his spendthrift habits. His wife and his daughter Ulicia have shooed away the proverbial wolf from the front gate, through their own efforts.

HOUSE NEXT DOOR.

Sir Isaac Jacobson lives in the house next door. Jacobson's ancestors were hungry most of the time, depending on the sale of home-made chairs and the kindness of Cotswold's antecedents for bread and water. Through thrift and the whim of fate Jacobson has become wealthy and has acquired the estate and fortune of the Cotswolds. The Jew is a philanthropist, and has earned his peerage; Cotswold hates him for that as much as for his place at the top of life's seamy and for his religion.

Sir John's son Cecil arrives on a visit, following his debut as a tenor at Covent Garden, where he had sung himself into instant fame. He and Esther Jacobson are in love. So also are Adrian Jacobson and Ulicia. Proud old Sir John will not hear of an alliance between the two families. Sir Isaac also is opposed to it on religious grounds, but in the end the parents are won over, for Sir John learns that he owes much to the generosity of his neighbor—even the money for Cecil's musical education having been advanced by the latter. So he swallows his pride and prejudice and calls at the house next door.

SHUMER AT BEST.

Henry Shumer's work as Sir Isaac Jacobson, M. P., ranks with the best he has done. His generous, big-hearted, cultured Sir Isaac is all you ask for. Never stager for a second, always comprehending the bounds of his character, Shumer is receiving a well-earned meed of applause this week.

Walter Lewis, a musical agent, is a creation in George P. Webster's hands. Lewis could be made a caricature easily; he needs to be handled with care. Webster sizes up his man from nose to foot and portrays him carefully. The picture is flawless.

Henry Hall is seen in Cecil Cotswold—not a part that is conducive to drawing out the best in an actor. Hall has little chance to show his worth, but does well enough with young Cotswold. Andrew Bennison does fair work as Adrian Jacobson. David Kirkland is Captain Trevor.

Elizabeth Stewart and Catherine Calhoun divide honors as the daughters of the house, and there are many honors to divide. Mrs. Mina Gleason is the well-subdued Lady Cotswold, and Miss Anna McNaughton is able as Lady Jacobson.

FULFILLS MISSION.

With Richard Hotelling doing the best work of his career, a well-sustained old man with the pride of an American woman at the connotation and the temper of a defeated candidate; with the Liberty players seen at their best; with a stagecraft that is faultless; and with a play that needs no excuse for its existence, Ye Liberty is fulfilling its mission well this week.

“The House Next Door” is a wholesome story from the German, well handled by J. Hartley Manners, to whom is due the American version. Its comedy is infectious and its arguments sound. Human nature and foibles are shown at their best and worst. It is worth seeing, and especially in this day of abasing plays and musical comedies of a bright red color and a dark brown taste.

FRUIT CROP DAMAGED BY SUDDEN COLD SNAP

SACRAMENTO, April 13.—The fruit crops of the foothill districts surrounding the Sacramento valley were badly damaged by a black frost that occurred unexpectedly yesterday. Reports from Winters, Vacaville, Capay valley, Huntington, near Oroville, Shasta county, and other districts, show that cherries, apricots, peaches and other tree fruits were seriously damaged, while tomatoes, corn, beans, potatoes and other garden plants were practically ruined. An accurate estimate of the loss is not possible at this time, but it will be made within a few days. It will be from one-half to a total loss on most fruits and tender vegetables.

STOP EXPRESS TRAIN IN THE NICK OF TIME

TRUCKEE, April 13.—The Atlantic Express, the fast east-bound passenger train of the Southern Pacific, had a narrow escape from a serious wreck a quarter of a mile east of the Truckee railroad yards yesterday. Fifteen minutes before the express was due, Pezzani, foreman of the local lumber company, discovered a fifteen-inch piece broken off the end of a rail in such a manner that the express must certainly have been wrecked had it come that far.

The Government Takes Step to Protect From Insult Men of Army and Navy.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—As another step in the government's efforts to eliminate discrimination against the wearers of the service uniforms of the United States, Acting Secretary of the Navy Winthrop has announced the action of the governors of the Atlantic and Pacific coast states to recent legislation of Congress and the Rhode Island Legislature.

Congress has made it a misdemeanor for the proprietor or manager of a place of amusement in the district of Columbia or the territories to discriminate against any man because he wears the uniform of the army, navy or marine corps. The Rhode Island law is of similar import. Mr. Winthrop suggested that the Navy Department will be gratified if laws along these lines could be secured in the coast states, often visited by the navy and marine corps.

General Organizer Hugh Frayne of the American Federation of Labor yesterday sent a general circular to the central labor bodies of the city asking them to send delegates to a conference to devise ways and means for a war against the bread trust.

Wife of Lumber Company's President Beaten to Death on Beach.

TACOMA, Wash., April 13.—Mrs. Sodie Buchanan, wife of James C. Buchanan, president of the Puget Sound Lumber Company, was found dead on a beach at her country home at Buchanan's Landing, near Gig Harbor, and Roy Morehead, a neighbor of the Buchanans, is in the county jail a prisoner without bail awaiting the investigation which is to follow.

The tragedy was witnessed only by the woman's four-year-old son, who ran along the beach a quarter of a mile to summon two ranchers, who returned with him to find the woman dead and Morehead pacing the water line near her body.

The tragedy is the culmination of a family feud of three years' standing, and, according to the story told by the little tot, the woman was beaten senseless with an oar and then held under the water until she was dead. Morehead gave himself up.

Danderine

EVERYBODY CAN HAVE BEAUTIFUL HAIR NOW, and they don't have to wait weeks and months for results either. You will notice marked improvement after the very first application.

Danderine is quickly and thoroughly absorbed by the scalp and the hair soon shows the effects of its wonderfully exhilarating and life-producing qualities. It is pleasant and easy to use—simply apply it to the scalp and hair once a day until the hair begins to grow, then two or three times a week till desired results are obtained.

A lady from California writes in substance as follows: “I have been using your wonderful hair tonic for several months and at last I am now blessed with a wonderful outgrowth of hair that measures over six inches in length. The hair is never itches again.”

Another from New Jersey: “After losing my hair I am now happy to say that I have as nice a head of hair as anyone in New Jersey.”

CANDIDATES SPEND BUSY CAMPAIGN NIGHT

Several Meetings Demand the Time and Attention of Office Seekers

MAYOR MOTT'S NAME CHEERED OVER CITY

Administration Receives Highest Praise From Supporters of Mayor.

Candidates who will go before the people at the primaries next Tuesday had a lively time last night making the rounds of the various political clubs scattered about the city and covering a territory extending from the waterfront on the west, almost to the hills in the northern and eastern part of Greater Oakland.

One of the most lively receptions given the office-seekers was that in the hall of the old Third Ward Republican Club at Seventeenth and Franklin streets. The place was packed with an enthusiastic gathering of voters and good music and refreshments added to the festivities of the evening. Nearly a dozen candidates made short addresses and most of them were warmly received.

William J. Bacchus, candidate for commissioner No. 2, was loudly cheered when he stepped upon the platform. In a few words he outlined the general principles on which he based his claims to the commission.

It is a great pleasure for me to be able to come before this club tonight, for I know that I have a host of warm supporters in the Third ward. There is one thing that I would like to impress on you, and that is, when the new charter goes into effect it will mean a new system of government, entailing an altogether new method of putting it into effect. I am heartily in favor of the provisions of the new charter. First of all, I want to see the waterfront improved and carried to completion. I would have a belt line railroad skirting the docks, the most approved and efficient docking facilities and all that goes with them. These things I stand for, and if elected it will be my first duty to endeavor to have them carried out.

Supervisor John F. Mullins and Assemblyman George Fitzgerald took occasion to put in a few good words for Mayor Mott, and whenever the name of the popular candidate was mentioned it invoked a loud burst of cheers. Mullins said in part:

RE-ELECTION ESSENTIAL.

"Mayor Mott is now asking you to let him develop the waterfront. Into the harbor it is destined to be and as he has so far accomplished a vast amount of work, it is essential that he be returned to the office. By electing him to the office, you are not only making a mistake, but I ask you not only to vote for him, but to ask your neighbors to do the same, so that there will be piled up the largest majority for him in the city. The waterfront was his conception and it has been greatly through his efforts that the city of Oakland has finally come into her own and as she stands ready to take the position that rightfully belongs to her citizens."

R. D. Holmes, candidate for commissioner No. 2, was given a big reception. When he took the platform it was with the statement that practically every man present in the hall had personally known his candidature and that he had over a dozen of them been the ones to suggest that he be a candidate.

SELL TRIBUNE AS AID TO A JAUNT AROUND THE WORLD

MISS OLIVE ADAIR selling THE TRIBUNE on Broadway yesterday afternoon to help pay her way around the world.

Did you see them? Surely you were blind if you didn't! There they were yesterday afternoon—Miss Olive Adair and Miss Olive Adair, Tulsa, Oklahoma's fair daughters—who sold THE TRIBUNE on Oakland's main streets to help pay their energetic way around this busy old globe. And Oakland evidently liked their pluck, for the people of Oakland came splendidly to their aid and beset them with demands for papers, so that it will be with a nice little sum in their purses as a result of their three days here that they will sail on the Korea for Honolulu next Tuesday.

Just think what it means for two normal, home-loving girls to undertake such an adventure as a trip clear around the world, all by their own efforts! Asked just how they came to do it, Miss Adair said it came through a burning desire to see places, an impulsive resolution to start out and see them, and then a "dare" to sell newspapers which has provided for them ways and means.

They are girls of ingenuity, too, for all on their own account they've thought out another way to pay their expenses, a decidedly clever one, too. It's a gamble on the mania of many a frantic collector of the daily em-bellished post card, even more eagerly sought by some than the stamp of the small boy. Miss Adair said so many people asked them to send cards from the various places they visited that finally they concocted a scheme which helps quite a little bit to swell the joint exchequer. And they do it by having a card subscription, in return for which they send a postal from every place they visit.

"You'd be surprised," said Miss Adair, the taller of the two girls, "how many people want foreign cards, and by this arrangement we supply that want."

The girls have not had much time for sight-seeing here, but they are most enthusiastic over the beauties of the city, and especially over the courtesy shown them. They came over Tuesday afternoon and that night were the guests of the Orpheum, where they saw the performance from a box. The same management has also extended to them the courtesy of selling their papers in the lobby of the theater every evening from 7 o'clock to the rise of the curtain. "It is this sort of treatment which we receive wherever we have gone," say the girls, treatment which bears out Miss Adair's contention and belief that two American girls can travel any place they want to, and be sure of respect and courtesy.

Today the girls are selling THE TRIBUNE again, and will continue to do so all the rest of the week, with one day in Berkeley, and then next Tuesday off they steam to Honolulu.

FEROV LETTERS BRING DIVORCE

Mrs. Belina Arnaud Granted a Decree From Ye Liberty Musician.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—Mrs. Belina Arnaud was yesterday granted an interlocutory decree of divorce by Superior Judge Trout from Louis Arnaud, a musician at the Ye Liberty playhouse, Oakland, on the ground of cruelty, a number of ardent love letters signed "C" and alleged to have been written by Miss Celine Wolff of 1807 1/2 Divisadero street, being introduced as evidence.

In her charge of cruelty the wife, who lives at 798 Hayes street, alleged that since her marriage in July, 1896, she had suffered blackened eyes and had been threatened with death.

Among the letters introduced as evidence was one dated October 2, 1908, which reads as follows:

"My Darling Sweetheart: Received your dear and most welcome postal yesterday and was so happy to learn that you are still at Ye Liberty. Love, I sincerely hope your position there will be permanent for your sake, sweetheart."

"Your writing on the postal looked for all the world like a woman's."

"I am waiting so anxiously for Monday to come," she goes on. "Won't we be happy together, though, Love, dear? counting the hours, dear—at first I counted only the days. 'Until Monday, love, and then—'"

"I am as sure as myself, proceeds to tell him that she is like the 'quality of mercy,' being 'twice blessed,' but no, it is 'thrice blessed' in her case, for she says:

"First I live in anticipation; then in the actual; afterward in retrospection. My memory always serves me well, dear, so I get triple enjoyment out of life."

STATE MILITARY STORES
WILL BE OVERHAULED

GRANDSTAND BURNS
AT BIG AVIATION PARK

SACRAMENTO, April 13.—There has been a shakeup in the military stores department of the office of Adjutant General E. A. Forbes, resulting in the appointment of John L. Henderson, formerly sergeant major in the United States regular army, to relieve Captain David E. Barney, former storekeeper. Coincident with the appointment of Henderson a general overhauling of the military stores of the State is under way. There was a report current here that federal secret service men were investigating the disposition of certain stores kept in the basement of the State capitol and in a Sacramento warehouse. General Forbes said last evening that he knew nothing of the presence of any detectives or secret service men.

MANY HURT WHEN BOMB WRECKS HOUSE

Black Hand Held Responsible for Latest Dynamite Outrage in Chicago.

HUNDREDS OF HOMES
ARE BADLY SHAKEN

Detonation Is Heard Within a Radius of Two Miles;
People in Panic.

CHICAGO, April 13.—Hundreds of houses were shaken about midnight when a nitroglycerin bomb was set off, supposedly by black-hand agents, on the porch of a house at 353 Ewing street.

One of the central points of panic was Hull house, only a few hundred feet distant from the explosion. The explosion was so loud that it was heard for a radius of two miles. Hundreds of windows were broken.

One of the features of the explosion was the simultaneous ringing of a false fire alarm from a box a mile away from the scene.

The police believe that the bomb thrower had an accomplice, who turned in this alarm in order to divert the attention of the police and fire departments from the neighborhood chosen for the explosion.

No one was killed in the house, which was badly damaged, but several persons within were thrown from their beds and injured.

That the black-hand activities furnished a motive for the explosion was the police deduction when they learned that August Arrago, who lived in the house until a week ago, had received threatening letters demanding that he deliver $500 in a vacant lot.

SPENDS FORTUNE ON HIS BIRTHDAY

Dr. Pearsons to Give Away
$300,000 to Pay "Debts" to Colleges.

CHICAGO, April 13.—Dr. Daniel K. Pearsons, the Chicago philanthropist, whose benefactions to various colleges and benevolent institutions have exceeded $6,000,000, will celebrate his ninety-first birthday tomorrow and will mark the occasion by distributing $300,000 more.

A dozen educators and intimate friends will dine with him at the Statler in Hinsdale, Ill., where he has been staying during the winter months.

Dr. Pearsons plans to discharge the last of his "debts," promises of aid to colleges made by him. He has announced that the gifts he will make tomorrow will include the following:

Boro college, Kentucky, $100,000,
American Board of Foreign Missions,
$100,000,
Doane college, Nebraska, $25,000,
McKendree college, Lebanon, Ill., $10,000.

He will give an endowment fund for the aid of students at Montpelier college in Vermont, the amount of which he has not yet determined.

GOVERNORS PROTEST IN MINNESOTA RATE CASE

JEFFERSON CITY, April 13.—Governor Hadley has announced that he will take up with the executive committee of the Governors' conference of the United States the necessity for concerted action against the affirmation of Judge Sanborn's decision in the Minnesota cases by the supreme court of the United States.

The Governor said that if the decision should be affirmed it would strike down the police powers and sovereignty of the States, and would render them mere dependencies of the national government.

He suggests that the Governors appear before the court as representatives of the States, each in the capacity of amicus curiae, and file briefs in opposition to the doctrine laid down by Judge Sanborn that the States are without authority to regulate corporations doing interstate commerce.

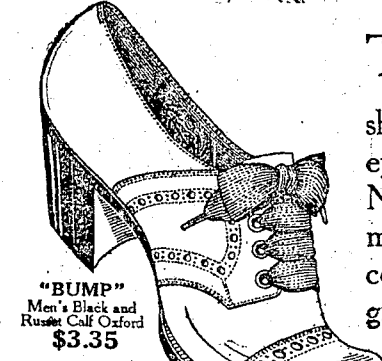

Eighteen Governors are affiliated with the organization, which met last year at Frankfort, Ky.

FAITHFUL DOG LEADS MEN TO MASTER'S BODY

GRASS VALLEY, April 13.—Prosper La Due, a watchman at the Prospect Hill mine, fell from an elevated walk Tuesday night and was killed. He was found under the walk with his lantern by his side and not a bruise on his body. His faithful dog, by his peculiar actions in repeatedly appearing at an adjoining mine, led miners to make an investigation. La Due lived alone at the mine and had often expressed a wish to die there. The dog was never before known to visit the adjoining mine.

TO RETIRE OLD WARSHIP.
VALLEJO, April 13.—Word has been received at the Mare Island naval yard that the privateer cruiser St. Louis, in reserve at Bremerton, will be sent here to relieve the receiving ship Independence. No word regarding the disposition of the Independence has been received. She is one of the oldest ships in the navy, having been launched in 1814. The vessel has been the receiving ship at Mare Island since 1898.

POWER IS GIVEN TO COMMISSION

The Revision of Railroad and Warehouse Laws Are Near Accomplishment.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 13.—Comprehensive revision of the railroad and warehouse laws of Illinois came to the verge of accomplishment last night. A bill, agreed upon by railroads, shippers, consumers and labor, was accepted as a substitute for all pending railroad and commerce bills and was reported favorably from the House committee on railroads.

The bill elevates the Illinois Railway and Warehouse Commission to a level with the federal Interstate Commerce Commission in its relation to interstate traffic.

POWER TO FIX RATES.

To the uplifted powers of the commission are specifically added the power to fix and regulate freight and passenger rates, to assume jurisdiction over express, steamboat lines and sleeping car companies, to sit in judgment in all conflicts between the transportation companies and the people and to have access to the internal financial affairs of the transportation companies for the purpose of making or settling issues at stake.

The Circuit Court of Sangamon county sitting in Springfield, is constituted a court of appeal from the decisions of the commissions, from which direct appeals are traced to the Supreme Court of the State.

The existing law makes no provision for the enforcement of orders of the commission. The substitute bill provides that orders of the company shall be mandatory and carried out by the process of law by the State courts. In the same fashion as Interstate Commerce Commission mandates are enforced through the federal courts.

MANY COMMIT CRIMES AND FEW ARE CAUGHT

NEW YORK, April 13.—Less than 2 per cent of the complaints of crime reported to the New York police under the present administration of the department result in arrests, according to statistics compiled by the district attorney's office under instructions from the grand jury, which is investigating the subject. The complaints thus tabulated relate to burglaries, larcenies, robberies and assaults.

COLLEGE SOCIALISTS DOUBLE IN NUMBERS

SEA WASHES UP DEEP MYSTERY AT GIBRALTAR

GIBRALTAR, April 13.—Spanish fishermen picked up on the eastern shore of Gibraltar a bag with a carefully folded parchment containing fourteen keys on a ring numbered 1647, an old gold brooch, gold watch, medal and a document. The medal bears the inscription, "E. A. B. low, San Francisco," and the bag is marked "National City Bank, New York." The articles were brought in for sale, but are in the custody of Victor Cazes, a merchant. The document is missing, but the finder promises to bring it in later. The letter in the bag was destroyed by a fisherman.

MERCHANT KILLS CLERK; CLAIMS UNWRITTEN LAW

PALMYRA, Ill., April 13.—John W. Wash, a hardware merchant, shot and killed C. C. Martin, a clerk in the store. Wash, who was arrested and taken to the Macoupin county jail at Carlinville, Ill., admitted the shooting and gave as the motive for it the alleged undue friendliness of Martin for Mrs. Wash.

BREAKS RAIL RECORDS.
BUFFALO, April 13.—Engineer Henry Childs of Syracuse, driving No. 48, the New York Central fast mail from New York, carrying seven all-steel mail cars and two Pullmans into Buffalo, did three miles between Bellevue and Lancaster in 1 minute 51 seconds. The first mile was made in 38 seconds, the second in 37 and the third in 36 seconds. These are claimed to be the fastest ever driven on a steam railroad in the world.

NOT A "CURE-ALL"

Separate Remedies, Each Devised for the Treatment of a Particular Ailment.

There is no "cure-all" among the Rexall Remedies. There are different and separate medicines, each one devised for a certain human ailment of a class of ailments closely allied. For instance, Rexall's Dyspepsia Tablets are recommended for the positive relief of stomach irritation, indigestion, flatulency and dyspepsia. They are rich in Bismuth-Subnitrate, Pepsin and Carminatives. They are prepared by special processes which perfect and enhance the great remedial value of these well-known medicinal agents. This remedy sells for 25 cents, 50 cents and $1.00 per package. Every one suffering from stomach disorder should try Rexall's Dyspepsia Tablets, inasmuch as they cost nothing if they do not satisfy. Remember, the Owl Drug Co., Inc., Tenth and Washington, Thirteenth and Broadway, Sixteenth and San Pablo, is the only store where these remedies may be obtained, and every one in need of medicine is urged to investigate and take advantage of the frank and generous manner in which they are sold.

N. Y. VINDICATES DYED EASTER EGG

Vari-Colored Barnyard Product Will Be Sold as Usual.

NEW YORK, April 13.—The vari-colored Easter egg has received a vote of confidence at the hands of New York City's health department. An investigation was recently ordered as a result of numerous complaints that the pigments used in covering the surface of the candy eggs were injurious. The report of the investigation vindicates the samples submitted and that the sale of the candy eggs will therefore be permitted as heretofore.

MANY FEAR FATE OF RELATIVES IN MEXICO

WASHINGTON, April 13.—The Mexican revolution has caused anxiety in many households in the United States and Canada, as is evinced by the number of telegrams received here inquiring for information concerning the whereabouts of friends in the affected territory. The State Department has had many such inquiries and has attempted through its consuls to furnish prompt replies.

JAMES AND ELSIE FINNEY DIVE INTO POPULAR FAVOR

ELSIE FINNEY at the Bell Theater this week.

The Finneys, James and Elsie, at the Bell Theater this week, have been rightly named "The Human Fishes." Their feats in the large crystal tank they use for stage purposes are wonderful, indeed. The grace and beauty of the daughter in her evolutions in the transparent tank form at once a very novel and picturesque sight, while the submersion feats of the elder Finney, in which he remains under water for minutes at a time would seem to him to be as easy as "finney" by nature as well as by name. This act has been seen at the Bell before but there is renewed interest in the many original and novel feats the pair introduced this year.

Clayton Kennedy is the chief laugh maker of the bill. He is naturally a funny fellow and in his vehicle, "The Happy Medium," he is given every opportunity for that lightning-like comedy of his, which made both he and his wife, his partner, Mattie Rooney, such favorites in "The Prince of Pilsen" company recently.

The four young men who constitute the Long Act Four, a singing quartet, assist that singing for a phonograph company is both profitable and restful, but it is woefully lacking in the ginger that is to be found in vaudeville. This is probably the chief of several reasons why the boys are back on the tour again with their charming melodies and their late Broadway hits.

The Musical De Fays are here with a good comedy musical act in which there is a conglomeration of fun, music and dancing, terminating in a ragtime boxing bout in which the young lady scores a knockout.

Manning and Ford are two graceful and wonderfully agile boys in "Picturesque Pedaling," and Tom Dempsey is a real old of the "ould sod," with a string of Irish songs and tales.

THREE-MASTER TO FISH IN ARCTIC

Vessel With Checkered Career Again to Go Into Commission.

The three-masted schooner Gallie, which for three years cruised in the south seas for the Carnegie Magnetic Survey Expedition, is at the Pacific Ways and Shipyards, being converted into a brig, after being out of commission at Benicia for more than two years. The Gallie is now owned by the Union Fish Company and will be used in the Arctic Commission. The little vessel has had quite a checkered career since it was built in 1890. First it was a mail-carrier for Uncle Sam in the Hawaiian Islands, later being chartered by the Carnegie Institute at Washington. It was then fitted up with a laboratory and numerous instruments, the rigging being changed from wire to hemp, that the scientists' instruments might not be put out of gear by the magnetism of the steel in the rigging. After three years among the islands, south of the equator, it was chartered by a trading concern and piled between the Celebes Islands, off the coast of Borneo. Two years ago the vessel was brought to Benicia, and now, after years in the torrid zone, will sail among the ice packs of the north.

The Gallie, as a schooner-rigged vessel, was celebrated as a fast sailer, being one of the fastest trading skippers of the Pacific. Captain W. Walstedt will take the brig to Alaskan waters, where she will replace the Carina, which was lost in the Behring sea with eleven of her crew, some time ago.

MORAL CONDITION IN RUSSIA IS DESCRIBED

American Passports Are Not Recognized by Czar, Says Lecturer.

"I WAS LUCKY TO GET IN AND LUCKY TO GET OUT"

Colonel Weinstock Talks Before Unitarian Club of Alameda.

ALAMEDA, April 13. — Colonel Harris Weinstock delivered an address to the members of the Unitarian club last night on "A Run Through Russia."

The speaker said in part:

"I really found only one thoroughly happy man in Russia. He was an American. I went to dine in a fashionable cafe in Moscow. The waiter and I met the dark waiter. I engaged in conversation with him and he told me he had a nice little German wife and two little yellow kids. He said that the only regret he had was that he was an American. I asked why. He answered: 'Well, in America, I am treated like a dog and here I am respected like a king.' He was the only man, in all my travels that I met who seemed to be happy."

"If some of you remember, the newspaper of the state recently published a resolution passed by the California State legislature, demanding Congress to see that Russia lived up to the treaty with the United States. Russia was treating the United States passport with the utmost contempt. He asked very loudly of the fact that he had a passport, was not permitted to cross the borders of Russia."

"I was held up, even though a representative of the commonwealth of California. I was in Vienna and called on the American ambassador to have my passport passed upon. He was absent and I was referred to the secretary. I presented my credentials as a labor commissioner from California and was very cordially received. He asked what I could do for me and I told him that I would like the Russian consul to recognize my passport."

"Next day he called at my hotel and said that he had sent my passport to the consul. Who had returned it, requesting a written statement of my religion. I complied with the request and the next day the secretary returned, looking very gloomy. He stated that the Russian consul absolutely refused to sign my passport."

"He said that I was a Jew and that he would not sign the passport of a Jew. I said: 'Will he refuse to sign the passport of a legal representative of the United States?'"

"The next day the secretary called and said that the Russian ambassador was a personal friend of his and that he would use his influence to have the ambassador vouch for me. So my American position, my American citizenship and my American passport amounted to nothing. I was merely allowed to enter Russia through the friendship of the Russian ambassador to the Russian ambassador."

"On my return from Russia, I called on the American consul, who told me that his secretary did more than he could. He said that I was fortunate in getting in and that I was doubly fortunate in getting out. He was right. Only a week after my return, I read an account of an American merchant who was dragged from his home and thrown into prison."

"An alleged interpreter was sent for, who so confused the facts that the American was thrown into jail and charged with murder. He was held there three months and finally managed to get in communication with friends and he was released without any explanation."

"While in Russia, I was in a continual state of unrest. I did not know what minute I might be accosted and thrown into prison."

"Russia is a magnificent country, with a splendid, but ignorant people. The government is the most rotten in the world."

NOTED SINGER TO BE HEARD IN 'STABAT MATER'

MRS. CARROLL NICHOLSON (top), contralto, and MISS FANNY M. BAILEY, soprano soloists, in "Stabat Mater."

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, April 13.—Paul Steindorf is a busy man these days putting the final touches on his chorus for the "Stabat Mater" performance that is to take place on Good Friday afternoon, April 14, in the Hearst Greek theater. For months the separate sections of the chorus have been practicing, the male chorus every Tuesday and Thursday evenings at the Farley studio, San Francisco; the San Francisco Choral Society at its headquarters, and the Wednesday Morning Club, which was formerly the choral section of the Elbel Club of Oakland, at the Elbel hall; but only recently have they been brought together for ensemble work, and now the rehearsals with the orchestra are beginning.

Miss Fanny M. Bailey, the soprano of the quartette, a pupil of Richard Gant, of the Syracuse, N. Y., is the only one who is a new recruit to the chorus. After much successful experience in church, oratorio and concert work in New York she removed to Pasadena a year ago, and was selected from among local applicants as the soloist in the Temple Auditorium of Los Angeles. She was the soloist at the last concert of the Loring Club and scored a great success. Mrs. Carroll Nicholson, who is well known as one of the most successful teachers and singers of this region, has long held the position of soloist in the choir of the First Congregational church of Oakland. She has made a last-minute change in her plans, however, and is now presenting in concert form by the San Francisco Choral Society.

PROPOSED BOND ISSUES DISCUSSED

Members of the City Club and Guests Meet at Banquet in Shattuck Hotel.

BERKELEY, April 13.—The dining room of the Hotel Shattuck was comfortably filled last evening by the members of the City Club and their guests at an informal dinner. The banquet topic was the proposed municipal and school bond project, to be presented to the voters on May 6. The speakers were Commissioner C. Hoff, Chief of Police Vollmer, Commissioner W. F. McClure, W. W. Underhill, James T. Preston and William C. Morgan.

McClure spoke in part as follows: "Each one of these eight projects has its own advocates, but all are not of equal importance. Sewers and garbage destroyers are essential to decency, cleanliness and health."

Councilman Hoff spoke in favor of constructing three new fire houses, one in North Berkeley, another in South Berkeley and a third in Claremont. The estimated cost, with apparatus, he said, was $85,000.

Chief of Police Vollmer advocated a $15,000 bond issue for a combination ambulance and patrol wagon and other police apparatus.

Commissioner Hoff expressed his support of the proposed bond issue for the playgrounds of the school board.

Morgan of the school board discussed the proposed school bond issue.

Newton Drury and Miss Andrews victors.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, April 13.—Newton B. Drury was elected president of the Associated Students yesterday, defeating H. C. Kelly. Ralph C. Magee was elected vice-president, Lyman Grimes, secretary and John E. Quinn, treasurer.

Miss Lorraine Andrews was elected president of the Associated Women Students over Miss Dorothy Fish by a majority of two votes. Four counts of the ballots were made.

Miss Florence Doyle was elected vice-president, Miss Anna Kluder, secretary and Miss Amy Walte, treasurer. Of the three amendments which were voted upon, only the first and third received the two-thirds necessary for adoption.

Amendment 1, changing the method of nomination for A. S. U. officers, passed by a narrow margin of 32 votes. The second amendment, providing for the publication in The Californian of 50 word statements by candidates for office in the student body, was defeated by 1 vote.

The last amendment, which alters the method of amending the constitution of the A. S. U. C., was passed by a large majority.

WILL TRANSFER SENIOR HALL WITH CEREMONY

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, April 13.—Since the erection of Senior hall, it has been customary in the latter part of the spring semester for the graduating class formally to transfer the building to the juniors.

The ceremony will be observed this evening at 7:15 o'clock, when President Moulton will make the transfer, although actual occupancy by the juniors will not begin until August.

E. A. Hallett will be one of the principal speakers at the occasion, and will be heard on the early starting of Senior hall. G. A. Haines, president of the Associated Students, will talk on "The Relation of Senior Hall to Student Self-Government." C. W. Payne, vice-president of the junior class, will speak in behalf of the third year men.

PRESIDENT OF U. C. PIONEER OF NORTH LECTURES ON THE PRESS

Takes Issue With What He Termed Its Dogma and Capital.

REFERS TO LORIMER CASE IN HIS REMARKS

Asserts That the Newspapers Are Reflectors, Not Moulders of Opinion.

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, April 13.—President Benjamin Ide Wheeler in a lecture yesterday afternoon on "Democracy and the Press," discussed the most striking and distinguishing characteristics of American journalism with its relation to the American temperament, of which he said it is the product. Dr. Wheeler took issue with what he called "the dogma of the sweeping power of the press," which dogma, he said, was "a part of its capital and good will."

He summed up his opinion of the place and power of the newspaper by saying: "The daily with all its faults is an effective instrument of that publicity through which alone a democratic opinion can exist."

PRESS VOICES OPINION.
"As concerns public opinion, the press voices rather than forms public opinion, provides data rather than determines its bent or character."

President Wheeler claimed that instead of the people following blindly by the opinions editorially expressed by the press, the advocacy of a man's candidacy for office by any considerable proportion of the daily press was often distinctly inimical to his success, while nothing brought a man public support quite so much as the appearance of continued persecution on the part of a newspaper. To this latter cause President Wheeler attributed the narrow margin of 32 votes.

The second amendment, providing for the publication in The Californian of 50 word statements by candidates for office in the student body, was defeated by 1 vote.

The last amendment, which alters the method of amending the constitution of the A. S. U. C., was passed by a large majority.

MONUMENT OF TERRIBLE ERROR
The continuance of Lorimer in his office as senator, President Wheeler pronounced "one of the most fearful blunders in American history, a monumental error of the most terrible error, a stone about the neck of the party, an object lesson to point young people to for years."

Mr. Lorimer, who was returned President of the Senate by a narrow majority because some of his fellow senators believed that one newspaper was persecuting him. When that newspaper led in the attack and pushed the case, the men stiffened up and said: "I'll stand by him."

Owing to the haste with which it must be prepared to give the people the daily newspaper seemed to the speaker to be somewhat less than that of some of the ably edited weeklies, which were said to have been influenced by the shaping and making of public opinion.

A SWEET MORSEL.
"A 'soop' is of all things to the average newspaper man sweet under the tongue. This desire to have the latest news crowd the newspaper into a more or less unreal. If we could settle down and read a newspaper five days old we would find out how little depends upon the latest news."

President Wheeler held up as a model worthy of high regard the typical Englishman who waits in all parts of the world for the London Times, paying blissful inattention to local news, waiting to take his news "sifted" and advocated that more time be given to the deeper things of life and less to reading "incorrect and impossible things," such as he thought were so often presented in the daily press.

"The newspapers," said he, "possess a certain power at short range. They are warmest in cause which they believe appeal to the popular instinct. To see everyone reading a newspaper at the elevated station in New York City would attest an European."

SPEAKS OF COMMONER.
President Wheeler gave a somewhat humorous account of the origin of Bryan's Commoner and of its success as a result of the free delivery system of mail in rural districts. Bryan was described as "a man with ideas, conscientiousness and acquaintance with the country, an upright man."

A woman's monthly of large circulation was said to be "a very excellent paper." The monthly paper was said to have an enormous circulation because it furnished "an abundance of reading for Sunday," and because the school boys pushed its sale.

Yellow journalism was distinguished, the speaker said, by abundant use of illustrations, drawings, photographs, cartoons and funny pictures, by the use of head lines and red ink and by "insets" which were described as "a device to force all the items upon the attention of the purchaser," thereby both increasing the sale of the paper and enabling the reader to catch a quick choice as to what he shall read and what omit.

BETWEEN TWO MILLSTONES.
"The newspaper cannot afford to offend the advertiser," said President Wheeler. "A threat to withdraw advertising has often forced a paper to change its policy. The newspaper is between two millstones. It must be popular with the masses to get circulation and with the sordid business interests to get advertising."

"The paper may have to borrow money. It may find that it has obtained the money through a bank which has interests to protect. The ramifications of capital are past finding out."

HAVE PUBLIC POLICY.
"Most papers pretend to have a policy however vague," This, the speaker said, he considered "most striking. The people want partisan statements, they want the news warmed up by the heat of controversy and of partisanship. A newspaper

G. A. Dungan, Who Crossed the Plains in '52, Drowns Himself in Bathtub

BERKELEY, April 13.—Despondent over failing health, due largely to old age, G. A. Dungan, a retired rancher, drowned himself in a bathtub at his home, 1833 Hearst avenue, yesterday afternoon.

Returning home from a trip to San Francisco his wife and daughter failed to find him on first entering the house, but later discovered his lifeless body, partially clothed, lying face downward in the bathtub, which was almost filled with water.

Dungan crossed the plains in 1852 and engaged in farming and cattle business in Humboldt county. He was one of the pioneer settlers of the north, where he made a comfortable fortune. He resided for many years at Farnale and later went to Santa Rosa, coming to this city last October.

Besides a wife and daughter, Miss Eleanor Dungan, there survives his son, Dr. G. A. Dungan of Eureka, who has been summoned by wire. The funeral arrangements will not be made until he arrives Saturday.

PORTER TEAM VICTOR OVER LONGFELLOW

ALAMEDA, April 13.—The Porter school baseball nine defeated the team from the Longfellow school yesterday, by the score of 9 to 3 on the Lincoln park grounds.

A large crowd of rooters from both schools was on hand and the air was split with the oaths of their teams. The game was anybody's until the fifth inning. Croll, who was pitching for the Longfellow, blew up, and allowed several easy runs.

This is the seventh straight win for the Porters and gives them a big lead in the race for the pennant.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—S. N. Copeland, a civil war veteran, 31 years old, was run down by an automobile at Market and Third streets. The machine was driven by H. Schindler, who picked up Copeland and took him to the Harbor hospital. He was treated for a lacerated wound of the eyebrow and ear and possible internal injuries. Schindler was arrested and booked for battery.

"The American newspaper is not originally designed for research after truth, judged by the standard of a catalog or list of events. The American newspaper aims quite as much to divert and entertain as to convey intelligence. The central motif is one of human interest. The story must be interesting to arrest and compel attention."

SCION OF WEALTHY FAMILY DRUGGED AND ROBBED

Two Women and Male Companion Held for Loot-ing Man.

Forced to Disgorge $1000 and Telegraph Home for More Money.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—Accused of plotting their victim with drugs and allowing him to recover his senses only long enough to bleed him for money and to force him to telegraph for funds to satisfy their need, Carmen Holbrook and Minnie Blair, two waitresses, and Charles Edwards, a laborer, were arrested at 1:15 this morning by Detectives Pearl, Furman and Behan and booked at the city prison for violating section 222 of the penal code.

A. D. Broadbent, scion of a wealthy Baltimore family, grandson of Adam Dunne of the Dunne foundry, which played an important part in the civil war, and brother of Judge Stephen Broadbent, a well-known jurist of the Maryland metropolis, is the unfortunate man whom the police say became enmeshed in the tolls of the trio.

STILL DAZED.

Broadbent, the worse for liquor and drugs, is still in a dazed condition and is at the Central emergency hospital. He can remember nothing, but according to the officers he has been under the influence of his captors for three weeks. Arriving in this city on a pleasure tour four weeks ago, he met the two women and their male companion in the tenderloin district, took him first to a room at Pacific and Kearny streets, where, say the police, they began to administer drugs in his liquor and got from him $1000 in cash, and then, adding him in cheap clothes, forced him to telegraph for more.

Another remittance having arrived, they took him to the Vendome hotel, according to the present allegation, and from there to the Albany house, 187 Third street, where the arrests were made today. The last remittance came Monday and amounted to $500. When they were arrested $175 was found in the room of one of the women. "I don't remember anything about it," said Broadbent this morning. "I've been drinking. I've been having a good time. Yes, I had some money, but it's all gone."

More Baseball and Dancing

NEW YORK, April 13.—More baseball for the boys and more dancing for the girls are recommended and discussed in the first annual report of the Bureau of Recreation of New York City department of parks.
"The prime interest of all boys more than six years old, during the summer time is baseball," says the report, and it goes on to tell of the recent action opening more parks and certain streets for ball playing. The development of more water sports is urged and the little girl of the street should have city music for her dancing.
"Recognizing the fondness of girls for dancing," says the report, "the committee recommends that the city buy two busy gardens with folk dance tunes on the rolls."

NEAR PANIC IN ORPHEUM.
SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—An employee of the Orpheum forgot to stop the vacuum cleaning apparatus just before the curtain went up at yesterday's matinee. Clouds of dust sweeping across the stage lights as soon as they were turned on appeared to several women in the audience like smoke darting across the stage. One woman shouted "fire" and arose in her seat. Another woman took up the cry and it began to look like a small sized panic, when the forgetful stage hand turned off the vacuum pump and put an end to the trouble.

GERMANY COMPLAINS OF CANADIAN TREATY

BERLIN, April 13.—Protests are being made in German newspapers against the United States government's view that the reciprocity treaty with Canada has no concern with countries that have a most favored nation treaty with the United States. The Tagblatt requests the German government to oppose the interpretation, though it is believed that it is simply for the purpose of testing commercial feeling.

Germany hitherto has made no objection to the interpretation, although she has long been aware of the reciprocity negotiations. The German government recognizes the principle that no country gives advantages to another country without getting quid pro quo, and accordingly has never objected to American reciprocity agreements with South American governments, and finally withdrew her opposition to the reciprocity agreement between Great Britain and Canada.

NORTH AND SOUTH SIT SIDE BY SIDE

Grizzled Veterans Sing War
Songs at Ft. Sumter Celebration.

CHICAGO, April 13.—Battalions of grizzled veterans of the blue and the gray, who fifty years ago glared at each other over hostile rifle barrels sat side by side or stood elbow to elbow last night in the Auditorium, where the semi-centennial anniversary of the firing on Fort Sumter was celebrated. The great theater was packed from stage to gallery.

Both the blue and the gray cheered together and they all sang old-time battle songs until they were hoarse. Not only did they sing the songs of the northern army, but they also sang the southern hymns. "Dixie" was echoed with as loud a fervor as was "Marching Through Georgia."

But no song so aroused the audience as did the "Battle Hymn of the Republic," which was sung by Jules Lumbar, now 80 years old, who sang it in the battlefield fifty years ago. Although the aged man had just risen from a sick bed his voice was clear.

DETECTIVE GALLAGHER CORRECTS TESTIMONY

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—Again this morning Detective James Gallagher was the star witness against John Walter Wilson, standing his second trial for the alleged slaying of Henry Boas. The officer corrected some of his testimony relative to specimens of handwriting and declared that he had never found any paper in the different stores similar to that in which the poison had been wrapped.

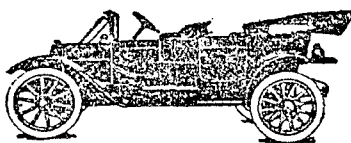

GOES TO HIS LUNCH, BUT FAILS TO RETURN

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—Friends and relatives of Alexander King, a grocer of 155 Noe street, are wrought up over his mysterious disappearance on Tuesday, and have asked the police to aid them in the search for him. King, whose place of business is at 2735 Market street, left the store to lunch and has slipped completely from sight. He is 35 years old.

PILES CURED QUICK

Send for a Free Trial Package and You Will Be Overjoyed at the Astonishing Relief and Cure.

Any man who has piles wants quick relief. If you can't wait, drop into the next drug store and get a 50c package of Pyramid Pile Cure. You will find relief right away. The cure comes quick and is a complete, permanent cure. Old chronic cases, that itch all the time, bleed, protrude and are sore, become gangrenous and are the very essence of utter misery. Write to the Pyramid Drug Co., 271 Pyramid Bldg., Marshall, Mich., for a free trial package by mail in plain wrapper of Pyramid Pile Cure. Such cases have tried a dozen remedies, but believe in nothing, except to be operated on, are sick, weary and discouraged. They need this free trial. It will be a revelation. The relief will bring back their hopes of a cure, the remedy will turn that hope into realization. A man in Indiana past 70 had suffered over 30 years with bleeding piles. The free trial of Pyramid Pile Cure was his first real comfort. He was thoroughly cured and has lived his remaining years in peaceful enjoyment, doing such odd work as would occupy his mind, and going about with none of the restraint and hardships that always accompany piles. Don't neglect to send for this free trial, and remember you can always obtain the regular 50c package in any drug store and be sure you get what you ask for.

Chalmers "30" Touring Car, $1500
Detachable Spare Doors, 115

Chalmers MOTOR CARS

HAVE GOOD MOTORS

Back of every smooth-running Chalmers motor there are many thorough tests of efficiency. Assembling Department it is tested for accuracy under electric power. Each part must be perfectly assembled, the whole running smoothly.

After this comes the most important test of all. At varying speeds, from 800 to 1200 revolutions, each motor is run 24 hours under its own power to determine to the last degree of certainty how every part works smoothly and silently. After this the motor is hitched to a dynamometer which makes the engine carry a load equivalent to a touring car with its full number of passengers. Under this strain the motor is run an equivalent of 300 miles.

And finally each motor which passes the test is assembled in a car and sent out for a 200-mile road test in actual service.

There is a Chalmers motor which will work right for you and give you the "best run for your money" you have ever had from any purchase. Let us fix your delivery date now.

MISS EMERSON AND E. GRAFF, JR., MARRY

San Francisco Belle, Becomes Wife of Former University Football Star.

HONEYMOON TO BE AUTO TOUR OF STATE

Bridegroom Is Prominent and Wealthy Land Owner in Oil District.

Beneath a large wedding bell of red and white roses and Easter lilies, Miss Edna Emerson, daughter of Robert W. Emerson, a wealthy business man of San Francisco, and Edwin Graff Jr., former University of California star football player, and son of Edwin Graff, a wealthy oil and land magnate of Bakersfield, were united in marriage at 7:30 o'clock last night at the home of the bride, 73 Divisadero street, San Francisco.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. William Rader, and at its conclusion the couple left on an automobile tour of the state and probably across the continent. The bride is an accomplished musician and society girl, having taken part in many benefit society vaudeville entertainments. She is a graduate of the San Francisco public schools. The Emerson family is one of the oldest in San Francisco.

Graff is wealthy in his own right, having made his appearance in the oil fields in the vicinity of Oculing and the great Midway district when but little was known of them. Both he and his father are identified with the men who first recognized the great future of the now famous Midway district. Together they own 5000 acres of rich citrus land in Kern county. Young Graff is president of the Kern County Realty Company.

Edwin Graff Sr. is the oldest resident of San Leandro, having been born there in 1848, when the gold rush took place in California. He was among the early settlers of Sutter's Fort. Following an extended tour through northern California he made his way with an exploring party to the southern section of the state, where he has been identified with some of the largest land deals that have ever been transacted there.

Following the honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Graff Jr. will make their home in Bakersfield.

EDWIN MEESE MAKES FRIENDS

EDWIN MEESE, present city treasurer and candidate for Commissioner No. 1, who is receiving a fine reception wherever he speaks.

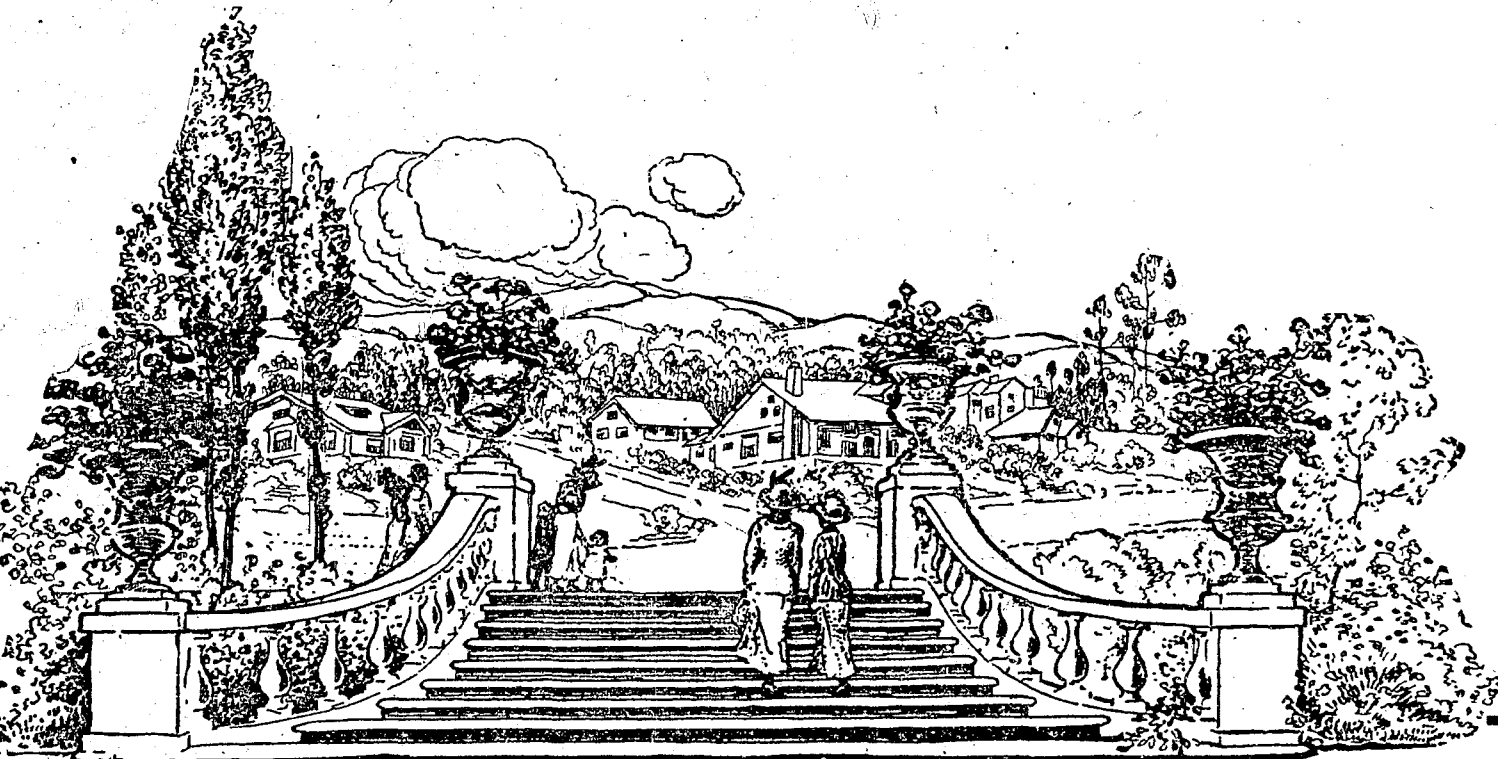

Edwin Meese, candidate for Commissioner No. 1, is making a personal campaign that is putting him in touch with the voters throughout the entire city. Mr. Meese is an untiring worker and has met thousands of citizens during this campaign.

In all sections of the city where Mr. Meese has spoken he has received great receptions. His fine record as a Councilman and City Treasurer makes Mr. Meese a particularly desirable man to have on the new board of commissioners. This board will have the work of reorganizing the entire city government under the provisions of the new charter which goes into effect in July next.

This work of adjusting the different departments to conform to the new charter will be an extremely difficult one to any person not thoroughly familiar with the present workings of our city government and should be entrusted only to the most capable men the city can find.

In Mr. Meese the voters will find a man who has always stood for progress and clean government. While a member of the city council he was chairman of two of the most important committees in that body. As a member of the finance committee Mr. Meese saved the city thousands of dollars by the capable and businesslike way he supervised the spending of the taxpayers' money. It is largely through his endeavors that Oakland was enabled to run its city government on a one dollar tax levy. As chairman of the street committee Mr. Meese outlined a systematic plan for bringing our roadways up to the point of efficiency they now occupy.

When Mr. Meese was elected City Treasurer, the present office he now occupies, he at once put in a system of modern business methods. In one place alone he instituted reforms that saved the city an average of $5000 a year. Throughout the entire office Mr. Meese has made other changes that have saved the taxpayers' money and increased the efficiency of the City Treasurer's office.

—The reason why we are selling lots in "PIEDMONT MANOR" for $20 a front foot

Did you ever drive through one of those artistic little residential parks so prevalent in Southern California?

Where palm trees border boulevards that wind in and out between a continuous bank of green lawns?

Where ten thousand dollar bungalows setting upon big wide terraced lots, give the neighborhood an air of culture, refinement and real home comfort?

Did you ever stop to ask the neighboring real estate man what these lots were worth?

As likely as not he said seventy, eighty or maybe one hundred dollars a front foot.

Did you then think to ask him what they sold for when the subdivision was first placed upon the market?

If you did, you were told a figure you could hardly believe, for in most cases were sold for $20 and $25 a front foot.

"Why did they sell them so cheap?" you ask.

"Simply for advertising purposes," is the answer. The companies who owned the land probably owned hundreds of acres of other land and had scores of tracts to develop, and subdivision work ahead of them for many, many years, just as the Syndicate has today.

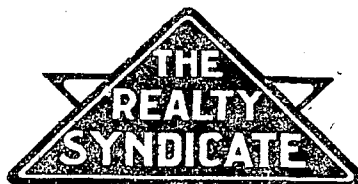

A few tracts were sold out at exceptionally low prices, and afterwards highly developed, simply to be used as future examples to be shown to future buyers.

The result has been that whenever they announce a sale there is a big rush for the property, because every buyer knows he will make a fine investment and that a new and beautiful neighborhood will be developed. In this way the subdividing company received in free advertising more good than could have been gained by the investment of thousands of dollars in newspaper space.

We want "Piedmont Manor" to be just such an advertisement for The Realty Syndicate.

We want to be able to point to this property four years from now when the world's fair crowds are visiting California, and say to them: "This is an example of our subdivision work. We sold it out at $20 a foot in 1911 when all surrounding property was quoted at $35 a foot and today you can't buy it for less than $60 a foot."

We can afford to sell Piedmont Manor for $20 a foot and to spend a fortune in beautifying the property for this reason alone, for we have hundreds and hundreds of acres that must be ultimately subdivided.

vided, and anything we do today that will help our future greater operations will well be worth the cost.

So don't judge the property by the price and don't judge it by anyone else's opinion.

Give us the credit for having the good sense to publish nothing but facts in connection with this campaign and read every announcement carefully.

The proposition is sufficiently exceptional to warrant you in giving it a little of your time.

Tomorrow we will tell you how and why "Piedmont Manor" differs from any other tract that was ever placed upon the local market.

It will be one of the most interesting advertisements ever published in this State.

IMPORTANT NOTICE

There are so many features of interest regarding "Piedmont Manor" that we have decided to incorporate but one feature in each advertisement. The following is the schedule decided upon:

Thursday, April 13th—"The Reason Why We Made the Price So Low."
Friday, April 14th—"The Five Advantages Piedmont Manor Has Over All Other Tracts."
Saturday, April 15th—"The Artistic Charm of Piedmont Manor."
Monday, April 17th—"The Nature and Character of the Improvements."
Tuesday, April 18th—"The Great Advantage of the Extra Wide Lots."
Wednesday, April 19th—"The Proximity of 'Piedmont Manor' to the Key Route."
Thursday, April 20th—"The Nature of the Outstanding Restrictions Protecting Everyone."

Copies of these announcements can be had at our office any time after date of publication. You should read them all.

GREETING BURGLARS WITH LEADEN HAIL

Curio Store Proprietor Opens
Fire on Two Bold
Intruders.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 13.—Two burglars, who looked with a covetous eye on the cash register in the curio store of Harry Hill, 424 Grant avenue, shortly before midnight, came near being killed or wounded by the irate proprietor, who was in the rear of the place.

Hill was doing some work in a back room when he heard two men at work on the front door. They would start to break the lock and then shrink into some shadow as a pedestrian passed, returning again to their work when the coast was clear.

Just as they had succeeded in smashing the catch, Hill seized a revolver and opened fire on them, shooting through a partition. The pair escaped before the arrival of Officer Lofgren, who was attracted by the shots.

Character is very creditable, but coin buys more roast beef.

WARNING TO RAILROAD MEN.
Look out for severe and even dangerous kidney and bladder trouble resulting from years of railroad. Geo. E. Bell, 533 Third street, Fort Wayne, Ind., was many years a conductor on the Nickel Plate. He says: "Twenty years of railroad left my kidneys in terrible condition. There was a continual pain across my back and my hips and my kidneys gave me much distress, and the action of my bladder was frequent and most painful. I got a supply of Foley Kidney Pills and the first bottle made a wonderful improvement and four bottles cured me completely. Since being cured I have recommended Foley Kidney Pills to many of my railroad friends." Wishart's Drug Store, corner Tenth and Washington streets.
